Changing Lives Through Educational Pathways

Zackary Speron, Campus Director of Pima Medical Institute, understands the challenges of teaching and its rewards as well. He recently shared his passion for teaching with fellow educators at the New Teachers Event, sponsored by the Renton Chamber of Commerce.

The ability to learn is the most important quality a leader can have.

Zach leads the training initiatives at Pima; the focus is on developing faculty, staff, and administration to provide the best experience possible for students.

The goal is to ensure graduates have been provided everything they need to thrive in the medical field.” Zach believes lives are changed through educational pathways. “It is important that every student find the right school and right teacher(s) to bring out their best. Pima has been doing that for 16 years and during that time, teaching staff have helped more than 10,000 students graduate to find meaningful and rewarding jobs in the medical field.
