

LAKE OSWEGO SPOKESMAN

Like You Were There

Chartered August 29, 1958

Issued: July 20, 2020

WHO CALLED US TO ORDER:

Our President - Nell Diamond!

- Is it the Truth?
- Is it Fair to all Concerned?
- Will it Build Goodwill and Better Friendships?
- Will it be Beneficial to All Concerned?

=====

Who led us to the Pledge

Craig Childress

Rotarian Craig Childress Shares words of wisdom

Past President of the Lake Oswego Rotary, Craig Childress, shared his experience at his daughter's wedding in Texas. She married an East Indian man, and the Childress family experience some Indian traditions and culture.

In the midst of the incredibly difficult times the world is going through, one may feel unable to make a change. Craig advises that every one of us can do things, small things; such as treating someone special, showing courtesy to the neighbor, the person behind you inline, etc. These little things add up to large things, and contribute to a community that we all want to be a part of.

Thank you, Craig, for being such an exemplary Rotarian.

Announcements

- Monday evening: LO Rotary Board meeting @ 5:30
- HELP NEEDED! Lobster-To-Go Setup on 7/24 and Clean up on July 26th. Contact Peter York. PMAIL to follow.
- Lobsters To GO! Saturday, July 25th
- ISC Meeting- next Monday, July 27th at 5:30 – email Lloyd Hill if you would like to attend: Lloyd.Hill@hillarchitects.com
- Interest Survey: 69 responses. Some still coming in. Nell will be sending out more interest group notices– thank you for your participation!
- Some Rotarians are meeting in-person, keeping social distancing in mind, and having a good time. Check out Ron Herring getting his blue badge at the Lake Theater restaurant.

Announcements

Lobsters-to-go are still available. For sign up, please visit www.lobsterfeed.org

What's better than a fresh lobster, grilled just before you pick it up at the Lakewood parking lot on July 25th.

The meal costs $75, but $50 of it is tax deductible. So, you can have a delicious lobster and save on taxes. What a deal!

LOBSTER DINNER TO-GO
We're Clawing Our Way Back
$75/DINNER ($50 TAX DEDUCTIBLE)

SATURDAY, JULY 25, 2020
ONLINE ORDERS ONLY -- BY JULY 15
AT WWW.LOBSTERFEED.ORG

SASEE Scholarship Recipients Introduced

Becky Owens and Cyndi Spear, recipients of the 2019 SASEE Award, used their award to provide a scholarship to Madison Jefferis, a graduate of LaSalle Highschool.

Madison is going to study International Law and diplomacy in Germany this fall. She hopes to become a future diplomat.

In high school, Madison has volunteered for many organizations, including Rose Haven shelter for women and children, and participated in Harvard's Model Congress learning how our democracy works.

It was great to have Becky Owens and Cyndi Spear join us, and watch the award to Madison.

Featured Program: Willamette Falls; A Grand Ronde Homeland By: Michael Karnosh

Michael was introduced by Candice Jennings. Michael is the Ceded Land Program Manager for the Confederated Tribe of Grand Ronde.

The tribes story spans over 15,000 years, according to Michael. He shared some ancient photos and sketches showing Native Americans fishing around Willamette Falls. The Claw-we-wal-la tribes inhabited both sides of the Willamette. They're descendants of the Chinook, and speak their language. The Grand Ronde entered into 7 different treaties with the United States in 1850.

The Ceded land consists about 14 million acres in Oregon and Idaho. Stories about the Willamette Falls were carried by word of mouth from generation to generation, and there are various versions. The stories involved fishing of salmon and eel.

The Willamette Falls was given various names over the years, and used to be a trade center, controlled by the Claw-we-wal-la. One would get permission by relation, or negotiate a trade.

With the Europeans arrival, the epidemics wiped out about 90% of the Claw-we-wal-la and the Clackamas tribes.

The tribes continues to be involved in the Falls, currently writing the master plan for the Blue Herron property with the city of Oregon City.