This week's program

This week Kelly Cleveland will present a program about the Lebanon Robotics Team - Scalawags Team 1359.

The Scalawags are a competitive robotics team based in Lebanon, Oregon. They have been around since 2004, since branching off from the Albany team. Over the years, the Scalawags have become recognized for their outstanding imagery and their participation in community events, featuring their t-shirt cannon and competition bots, handing out candy on Main Street for Halloween, and shooting t-shirts at pep assemblies.

Their proudest brain child is their Junior Robotics program, where they bring fourth through eighth graders into their shop once a month to learn about FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology), how to use power tools, STEAM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math) topics, and engineering challenges.
