Welcome!

President Jeff started the meeting asking Greg to lead the invocation, and Mark to lead the pledge. Neither one needed to read the words from the screen.

Jennifer performed a very creative version of the Four Way Test that cost her $10. President Jeff showed us how it was supposed to be done. Jennifer said she was just havin' fun!

Program

Dana Lewis, Executive Director of People Services joined us, and spoke to us about how COVID has affected their day programs and other operations.

Services: They needed to close their day programs and the Clearlake Thrift store, but the Lakeport Thrift store is doing well. The 2020 Chicken Que was cancelled, but they are hopeful to have a drive thru version for 2021.

Crew Supervisors took on more responsibilities to keep the services running, but now landscaping crews are operating again. Annex crews are sorting and prepping products for the thrift store. Modified cooking has allowed home cooked meal and holiday deliveries to continue. Lifestyles (1to1) and Supported Living Programs did not stop during the pandemic. To keep in touch, PS sent out 3,000+ newsletters, greeting cards and personal letters.

People Services is not monitoring clients vaccine status nor changing services, and they are maintaining all safety measures. If you have a need, they are currently accepting applications for landscaping services. If you want to schedule for yard work, you can contact Sheri Schafer at 263-3810, Ext 112.

Dana showed us a video of a craft project that can be done from home, which has been very popular with clients.

They has maintained their workforce with very low COVID exposure in the midst of the pandemic. They have continued to serve their clients, which is their main focus.

Sunshine

Jill did the duties today. Marty Diesman and Beth Havrilla Joined April 1st. They have been with the club for 23 years. Dan Kearny was also in the entering class that day. Jill completed her report by showing us a slide of the Four Way Test. Jennifer took notes.

Detective

Gary had a work emergency, so David M-W took over detective duties.

Giovanni was recognized for having his name spread all over the news last week. He was honored as one of 19 districts in the state who have excelled in education during the pandemic. Giovanni ignored the email that let him know of the honor. In true Rotarian form, he credited his fellow educators for making his accomplishments possible. Giovanni also bragged about an Upper Lake student who will be attending Harvard next year!

Dan C was fined for his flashing video. After re-reading that last line, perhaps it should be clarified that the video on his computer feed was flashing, not Dan. Our detective was quite concerned about Dan, but then it turned out that he is joining us from Hawaii. That deservedly led to a doubling of his fine.

President Jeff was fined for being in Lake Tahoe while his fellow Rotarians were doing the Drive Through Easter Bunny event. Jeff doubled his fine since he didn't have to pay for his cabin.

Greg was fined for not having a Rotary Banner behind him. Worse than that, there is a Toastmasters Banner. Dave Schwenger volunteered to take the fine. Greg told us that he belongs to 7 different Toastmaster clubs. That's OK, though, since Greg puts out seven times the effort compared with the typical Rotarian.

Tom O. paid Jennifer's fine for her creative version of the Four Way Test. He insisted that Jennifer got it right

Mark B bragged about attending the Easter Bunny event with his grandkids. He also bragged that the LC Diamonds will be back at the Saw Shop Public House for live

Announcement

Laura did a poll to see who would like to attend meetings in person back at O◆Meara Brothers. We are hoping to have a hybrid meeting with up to 15 Rotarians able to attend in person.

Beth announced the incoming slate of officers. There will be one more reading and then we will vote.

The District Assembly will be April 16th and 17th. The event will be remote, and free to attend.

Board meeting is next Tuesday. Feel free to join even if you aren◆t on the board ◆ same link as our weekly meeting.

Finley

Andy had a hard time picking a number between 1 and 22. Finally number 9 was chosen which belonged to Giovanni.
