

Welcome

President Jeff rang the bell from O◆Meara Brothers for our first attempt at a hybrid-ish meeting.

Greg led the invocation ◆ there were no additional thoughts or concerns, so he freestyled with the theme of freedom.

Tom O led the pledge, and managed to avoid taking any artistic license.

Visitors and Guests

Michael McCune (sorry Michael if I botched your last name) joined us as a guest Rotarian, and our interact Club joined us remotely as well.

Program

We had a guest speaker scheduled, but something happened and discussion ensued about how she was going to speak about volunteering opportunities. So when our volunteer speaker who was to speak about volunteering didn't show up, Greg volunteered to talk about volunteering.

Greg stepped us through some of the programs he was involved with in his career with CalFire which used volunteers in several different avenues. He also told us about the opportunities that he has taken advantage of to volunteer in our community including working with the Police department.

Greg encouraged us all to volunteer as much and as often we are able. Our lives and the lives of those in our community will be better for it.

Melissa agreed, and gave suggestions for both volunteers and organizations that are in need of volunteers to make it a mutually beneficial relationship.

Gary let us know that Elijah House is in need of kitchen help, so are looking for volunteers. If you have time, reach out to Gary directly, or through Facebook.

Sunshine Jill celebrated Mark Lipps◆ one year anniversary with the Lakeport club, and 9 years overall in Rotary.

Jill shared a joke. Melissa says that she got more laughs.

President Jeff asked Greg to recite the Four Way Test. He did it, but not without a sermon to go along with it.

Detective

Gary did the report today. Melissa was first on the chopping block as she is off to visit Nashville, TN. Gary thought Elvis would be there, but he is busy at Graceland in Memphis. Laura, Jeff, and Dave were each fined for being at O◆Meara◆s and not getting lunch or a beer.

Gary fined himself for missing last week◆s meeting and for getting new tires and a lift on his pickup.

Marty paid a fine for not washing his truck for a month. He also admitted to having an online relationship with someone he had known since 8th grade. His wife, Crystal, is aware of this, so please don◆t start any rumors.

Interact report

earbook is moving ahead and plans for prom are continuing. Plans are also being made for the Top 40 barbeque night.

Announcements

Melissa tells us that KXBX will be moving forward with the Summer Concert Series will be returning this year. Rumor has it that the LC Diamonds might be involved somehow.

Next week we will begin hybrid meetings. We can have 15 persons at O◆Meara◆s. There will be packaged meals only since buffets are still not allowed. Laura will be sending out invitations to 15 people. You must accept the invitation.

Brock let us know that the dictionary project was put on hold last year due to the Corona crisis, but the dictionaries were given to the now 4th grade students at the beginning of this year. This year, third graders will be getting theirs, but we won't be able to pass them out in person. Brock read a couple of thank you notes that we received.

Finley

We had 19 attendees, and David H picked his own number.
