Remembering Richard Calhoun

We are sad to report that one of our long time members, Judge Richard "Dick" Calhoun, passed away over the weekend. Dick was a member of Danville Rotary for over 50 years, and a past president of the club in 1968-1969.

ROTARY PROFILE 1964

Court and wields a wild gavel we are told. He is assured of this job for at least six years due to one of the most vigorous campaigns ever waged in recent political history. His margin of victory was even greater than that of Lyndon B. Johnson. Mr. Calhoun was unopposed.

With the rigors of his profession it would hardly seem there would be time for anything else. Mrs. Calhoun returned from the hospital two weeks ago with their seventh child. Due to a space problem, it is impossible to name all of the Calhoun children.

A golfer of questionable ability, Calhoun has been known to win sizeable amounts of lucre on the links and has done quite well in various games of chance that take place in or around the 19th hole.

The Calhouns live on Via Cima Court in Danville but are hopeful of moving into a Camp Parks barracks sometime during the New Year.

Once upon a time, way back in the frozen wilds of Minnesota Mrs. Calhoun stirred her Irish stew and came across Richard. He was in the soup so much that early in life he decided on a law career. Of course this was interrupted with a stint in the Army and then college but eventually, he made it in and out -- of Boalt Hall. He passed the only bar in his life prior to hanging his shingle in Danville.

In addition to his law practice, he serves the community as Judge of the Danville Justice
