PROGRAM

Jeff Matheson, Director of Resident Services at Rossmoor, spoke about the staged physical reopening. Right now, sports activities have begun to reopen slowly with some major limitations. Golf and outdoor pickleball are open. The Dollar and Hillside (lap swimmers only) pools are open for an extremely limited number of swimmers every forty-five minutes on the hour by reservation only. Locker rooms remain closed and guests and lounging are not permitted. The Tice Creek pool is still closed.

Jeff characterized his approach as extremely cautious, so all activities are for residents only right now despite the many single residents. Rossmoor is 100% accountable for regional and state requirements. However, the Gate cannot enforce the mask requirement.

Several newly re-envisioned and/or redesigned services are emerging.

- Live stream concerts are available by log on.
- Plans are underway for a drive-in movie in the Hillside parking area.
- Small scale wine tastings will be rolled out by specific entries.
- The fitness center offers fitness videos that are virtual, and they are scheduling specific activities for individuals.
- Bus service is slowly expanding.

Regulations on previous services have changed but can once again serve residents.

- Church services are allowed with limited attendance.
- The Farmers Market is operating.
- Shredding services have become available.
- Creekside Restaurant provides outdoor dining.

Hopefully, there will be progressive reopening. GRF expects to reopen several activities in three to four weeks. Once Rossmoor gets the go ahead to open the Fitness Center, there are plans to implement a reservation-only system. The fitness area will not have classes. Masks will be required to get into the Center, but there may be some variation as to which activities will more fully require mask wearing. Of course, this is largely dependent on closely monitoring COVID case data throughout the city and county and remaining under their advisement regarding reopening timelines.

Presently, they have limitations on capacity of and number of rooms available for meetings. Art studios for are not opened yet because they are classified under realty guidelines.
