This Week's Presenter

Coach Dan Hawkins, UC Davis Football

He has taken his family on vacation to Machu Picchu in Peru. He taught science, jumped out of airplanes, and coached football in 13 different countries. For Dan Hawkins, who was introduced as football's new head coach on November 28, 2016, those aren't simply items to cross off a bucket list, they have been opportunities to learn. It's that thirst for learning, and application of that knowledge, that brought Hawkins, a 1984 UC Davis alumnus who played and coached with legendary head coach Jim Sochor, back to his alma mater.

In 2018 he led the Aggies to their most successful season at the Division I level. He was named Big Sky Coach of the Year. And following UC Davis' playoff run, Hawkins became UC Davis' inaugural recipient of the Eddie Robinson Award, presented to the top head coach in the NCAA's Division I Football Championship Subdivision.

In addition to excelling inside the classroom at the fifth-ranked public school in the nation, football student-athletes also set a new precedent in the program's history: By moving spring practices to middle of the winter quarter, student-athletes can participate in internships, community service projects, or study abroad opportunities available to students on campus that are unheard of within a football program at any level across the nation. Thanks to the integration of Hawkins' core principals, new football alums are now pursuing graduate degrees abroad an uncommon opportunity for any UC Davis student.

Within two seasons, Hawkins successfully created a culture focused on providing a well-rounded college experience that combines elite academics with the opportunity to compete at the highest level of college athletics.

During Hawkins' first year at UC Davis, his team set 46 new Big Sky era records, faced more ranked teams (or teams receiving votes) since joining the league, won five games against Division I competition equal to the combined total from the previous three seasons, and collected five Big Sky Player of the Week awards, matching the total from the last four years combined.

Last Week's Meeting Notes

July 18, 2019

SETTING A RECORD

Last week's meeting attracted a record 10 guests. And who says there's no such thing as a free lunch?

Perhaps it was because President PJ was gaveling her second meeting and everyone wanted to see if she continued her quest to be deemed the Iron Maiden, putting the non-compliant members in their place. And, of course, she tried. She found herself the first offender, however, when she attempted to announce birthdays and anniversaries, but was quickly chastised and reminded she was out of time as the meeting wandered a bit earlier in the session.

The result: No finemaster, no Happy Dollars. Nonetheless, the meeting was adjourned 3 minutes early, restoring her popularity numbers.

STEPPING UP

Helena Chung stepped in for absent greeter John Shelby and was doing double duty - Greeting and getting everyone to sign Jan Larsen's get-well card.

After it was learned that the current sergeant-at-arms had to resign unexpectedly, Scott Reynolds quickly volunteered to fill the vacancy until a permanent replacement is found.

Who will step up?

GRATEFULNESS

Our president presented past president Shawn Paschal with a plaque and his gavel. Initially, Shawn was wary of being called to the podium, thinking it might be another demotion ceremony. It was, of course, recognition of his ability to be a steady, calm and a valued leader. President PJ noted, "His family values were apparent and an inspiration to the club. It was fun watching the club grow as a stronger family unit."

Presentations by Foundation Director Bill Seiden (sporting Bill Powers shirt) included Katheryn Tuberty's for her Paul Harris Fellowship, plus 4, contributions, as well as President PJ for her first, Jim Kellogg for his plus 2.

Meanwhile, Will C. Wood Interact club officers were introduced by advisor Tim Healer and were presented an Interact feathered flag and tablecloth for use during all their upcoming events.

SORRY, NO CREDIT

For those folks who believe they can put their guest charges on a ♦ tab, ♦ take note that it does not exist in our club. If you are bringing a guest, bring some cash, check or credit card at the time of check in, please.
