Trivia, Fines, Bucks and Dollars

PP Mike Peterson, Trivia Master extraordinaire, shared that we are in the throws of the Dog Days of Summer. Bill Bokelmann won immunity for knowing that the Labrador has been the most popular breed for 30 years in a row.

Other Famous Dog trivia included:

Bulldog is the Marine Corp mascot.

Snoop Dogg is a famous rapper, Dawg.

Rin Tin Tin was rescued during WWII and went on to star in 27 movies. He won best actor the first year of the Academy Awards but his human runner-up took home the statue.

Snoopy is an anthropomorphic beagle in the comic strip Peanuts by Charles M. Schulz.

Pluto is a cartoon character created by The Walt Disney Company. He is a mustard color, medium-sized, short-haired dog with black ears and is the only Disney animated animal who does not wear clothes or talk - he acts like a dog.

Club Meeting

Green Valley has two meeting times:

The morning traditional meeting is at Wildhorse Golf Club 2100 W Warm Springs Henderson 89014

Thursday at 07:00 AM (This meeting is also available via Zoom. Check our webpage for details.)

AMP (Alternative Meeting Program) meets at 6:00 p.m. on the second Thursday each month.

For information, please visit our webpage.

PP Mike Peterson forgot to call for a spin so Dave Jochman called for him to be fined. Mike spun a $3; Dave spun a $1; Kay spun a $3; and Darcy spun a PP.

Dave McGovern shared that Matt and family are moving to Texas this week.

Jon Hoolihan encouraged everyone to contribute to the mid-year gift for Shane.

Dave Jochman was not happy about the VGK trade.

Darcy Dougherty was very upset and disappointed in the Fleury trade and how it was handled by management.

Valerie Salerno was happy to be planning her trip flying to/driving from North Carolina but is worried it won't happen since her co-worker resigned. Valerie announced her "indifferent dollar" challenge: Wear a hat next week and she will donate a dollar.

Jackie Carroll had a Happy Buck to say there are 24 signed up for bowling and double that for dinner!

Kay Doxilly was happy she got into her program of study at UNLV.

PP Julie Todd shared her "dog days" dog sitting her granddog, who she has nicknamed "Houdini". She also was concerned her trip won't happen next month due to increasing Covid numbers.

PP Mike Peterson started a thing after mentioning that he has tickets to the upcoming Rolling Stones concert at Allegiant Stadium.

Darcy Dougherty saw the Rolling Stones in Rockford, Illinois in a 10,000 seat arena in 1981. Quite a coup to get them to perform in an arena that small. When their manager got the final check for the performance, he laughed because the amount did not even cover the bill for their stay at the White Hall Hotel in Chicago.

Dave Jochman stood in line all night as a pledge to hold spots for his fraternity brothers to buy tickets to see the Stones at the University of Illinois. Poor Dave could not afford the $17 ticket so did not see the concert.

George Baggott was in South America and saw the band arriving at his hotel. He tried to take several pictures but was thwarted by security. George sat down on a sofa in the lobby and was able to sneak a quick shot. All he got was a picture of Mick Jagger's a.

Christine Smith has Rolling Stones tickets, too! She had a Dammit Dollar (DD) because her co-worker's vaccinated daughter got Covid so her co-worker is now in quarantine.

President Lora got her hair done this week. She had a DD for the two crazy funerals on Saturday at work. Good thing she loves her job!

Heidi Woodruff introduced Sherry Alexis who discussed how Susan G. Komen Nevada fared during the pandemic. She asked us to remember that Early Detection Saves Lives. She cited her friend Esther as a walking/talking example of the benefits of early detection. Esther has had breast cancer twice, colon cancer and lung cancer. Each time it was caught early and she survives.

With the pandemic, screenings have been delayed so a subsequent increase in cases is anticipated. Fortunately, Golden Knights defenseman Shea Theodore announced he was stepping up his charitable efforts to combat breast cancer in Nevada. The 25-year-old unveiled new contributions to his Kays Power Play fund for Susan G. Komen Nevada, named after his late grandmother and aimed at providing mammograms to those in need. This will aid in getting uninsured and under-insured local citizens screened.

The MORE THAN PINK Walk, Komen's signature fundraising event, will take place on Saturday, September 18, 2021. It's a day where we can put aside everything else in our lives and share our stories, our laughter, and our tears to raise money that saves lives while we celebrate survivors, those living with breast cancer, and honor loved ones lost.

- To date, Susan G. Komen supporters have helped raise more than $2 billion to help fund research, education, screening and treatment
- 56% of Komen's research funding goes toward more effective treatments for those living with metastatic breast cancer
- In the last 12 years, Susan G. Komen has invested an average of 80 cents or more of every dollar raised to mission programs, such as research, local access to care and screening services, financial assistance, and support programs

In Nevada:

Susan G. Komen Nevada is funding more breast cancer research than any other nonprofit while providing real-time help to those facing the disease.

Research

$1.1B Invested collectively in life-saving breast cancer research since 1982.

Care

670 People in Nevada seek help and information from Susan G. Komen every week.

Community

16 Counties in Nevada are served by Susan G. Komen breast cancer services.

Action

1,351 People in Nevada advocate for breast cancer rights.

Adjournment

George Baggott won $10 in the raffle by pulling a King. The pot was at $166. George then led the group in recitation of the Four-Way Test of the Things We Think, Say or Do.

President Lora Evans adjourned the meeting at 8:15 a.m.
