Henderson, NV 89014
Time: Thursday at 07:00 AM

Don Havins was happy for winning last week so he gave Ted Durant a dollar for drawing the winning Joker.

PP Susan Johnson was happy because a generous member of our club is donating his/her Recognition Points to match contributions of $100 or more to our club's foundation, "Nevada Rotary Foundation," which is different than Rotary International's foundation entitled "The Rotary Foundation." This donation results in contributing members receiving credit toward their first or next Paul Harris Fellow. This donation is available to all until his/her points run out. Please consider making contributions to our club's foundation through Bob Dworkin, the foundation's treasurer, Terry Perkins, the foundation's president or Susan.

PP Bob Hulshouser had Happy Bucks for the first Interact meeting at Green Valley. Bob 2.0 (Dworkin) filled in at the last minute. Fifteen new students have signed the interest form. Coronado and Silverado will meet next week.

PDG Larry Skaggs shared that the kitchen cabinets are finally installed. He can see the light at the end of the tunnel.

Christine Smith had a bit of trivia to share. August 13th was National Filet Mignon day so Morton♦s served filet mignon sandwiches for $1 until 10p.m. that day!

PE Terry Perkins♦ daughter-in-law has been granted US citizenship.

Larry Flashberg had Happy Bucks for his travel. Had a great vacation even though the plane ride was 30 hours each way. He was happy to be back amongst his Rotary friends.

Delinda Crampton enjoyed her 50th birthday celebration at Green Valley Ranch. Her parents came out, too. She had a dollar for losing her Rotary pin and Paul Harris Fellow pin.

Mark Roy was excited that his 2nd great grandchild was expected on August 15.

Darcy Dougherty had five Happy Bucks. They had a great time with Bob♦s sister, Ann. They crammed a lot of activities in during her visit including some work. Ann got home safely. Next Wednesday Darcy is having a monumental birthday where she doesn♦t have to pay for health insurance anymore.

Alex Grodzinsky was happy to be back. Zoe just had her first real estate closing. He was looking forward to a nice relaxing day with a massage in honor of Relaxation Day.

Judy Lloyd wished congrats to the birthday girls and was happy to be there.

President Julie Todd owed $5 from last week and the fine from Dave Jochman♦s spin. She had a Happy Buck for her youngest son, Cameron moving to Henderson from California. She wished Delinda a Happy Birthday.

Program

Dave Burlin: A Veteran Helping Veterans

Secretary Lora Evans introduced Dave Burlin, a Professional Sales and Leadership Coach at Southwestern Consulting.

He is a Marine Corps Veteran, and he believes that influence is the core foundation for growth. His passion is to help people maximize their influence potential so that they can create innovative organizations that bring positive change and impact to the world. He does this by helping them communicate their vision, and invest in their greatest resource; their people. With growth comes more opportunity for leaders to emerge, and the cycle of leadership and influence continues.

In 2014, he had the honor of speaking at TEDxTulsa about veteran transition, and this has led to many speaking opportunities. He has continued to take his passion helping veterans into the business world by coaching some of the most elite teams and organizations on the planet.

He currently resides in Las Vegas, where his wife Callie works at Zappos headquarters.

They are passionate about teaching their son Ethan to have a positive impact on the world.

Dave referenced a video which can be viewed here: <https://youtu.be/oLfozhW-JQ0>

President Julie thanked Dave and presented him with a gift.

Adjournment

For the second week in a row, Don Havins ♦ number was called and Ted Durant drew for a card for him and drew a ♦3♦. The pot was at $72. Ted then led the group in recitation of the Four-Way Test of the Things We Think, Say or Do.

President Julie adjourned the meeting by ringing the bell at 8:05 a.m

Leadership Library Transforms Community

By Frederic Nullathemby, 2018-19 president of the Rotary Club of Rose-Belle, Mauritius

If you want to be a leader, you have to read. If you want to develop leaders, you have to provide a place for young people to read. When we took on our project to develop the Leadership Library, we very much had the words of Margaret Fuller, a 19th century American journalist and women's rights advocate, at heart: ♦Today a reader, tomorrow a leader.♦

We knew of a building in Mare Tabac that had fallen into a deplorable state. The building had once been a pre-primary school where many villagers in Mare Tabac began their education. Due to management issues the school closed and was converted into a village hall. But it was later abandoned when no stakeholders were making use of the building. It became an eyesore until more than a decade later; The Rotary Club of Rose-Belle stepped forward to do something with this building.
