The State of Literacy in the Ozarks

By Lori Fan

On September 8, Amy Jardell, executive director of the Ozarks Literacy Council will join us to talk about literacy in the Ozarks. She is a graduate of Drury University's Master of Nonprofit and Civic Leadership Program, and a former volunteer coordinator and development associate with the Child Advocacy Center. She is responsible for grant management, promotion, business/office management, event coordination and donor relations. Amy is a preschool reading volunteer.

The Ozarks Literacy Council promotes literacy awareness by strategically placing books in the hands of children who need them most and by engaging the community at local events. Making the OLC's presence known throughout the Ozarks emphasizes the importance of literacy not just for children but for everyone. Whether it's simply reading books to children at a community event or being an active participant in the united way's day of caring, the OLC strives to make every person a reader.

Learn about Bear POWER at our September Rotary on the Road!

By Lori Fan

On September 22, MSU Executive Director of Alumni Relations Lori Fan invites you to visit the Meyer Alumni Center to meet Rachel Heinz, director of Missouri State University's Bear POWER (Promoting Opportunities for Work, Education and Resilience). We'll learn about this inclusive college program for students with intellectual and developmental disabilities that launched in Spring 2019. Rachel oversees the Bear POWER Program, raises awareness for inclusion within educational settings, the community and the workplace, and provides leadership on a local, regional and national level as the spokesperson for Bear POWER.

When her 8 year-old son, Hudson, was diagnosed with Down syndrome at birth, she started on a path of advocating for people with disabilities to educate about inclusion, increase opportunities and raise expectations. She is currently Vice Chair of Membership and Communication with the Midwest Inclusive Post-Secondary Alliance (MIPSA). In addition, Rachel has worked with other inclusive post-secondary programs by providing mentorship to parents, educators and advocates across the United States.

Join us on September 29 to do what we do best...Serve! Come along to hear why our own Michael Brady has such a passion for the mission on this organization that he he left "corporate America" for an amazing job at Help Give Hope.

We will be taking down tables that have been used for garage sales. The tables legs will be folded up and the tables placed on pallets. The pallets will then be moved with a forklift to other areas of the warehouse. No special clothing needed. There will be some choices of adult beverages and water available to all attendees. This project should not take very long. We can remain at Help Give Hope and enjoy beverages.

Help Give Hope was established in 1981 to assist needy children and families in Southwest Missouri. Originally designed to only provide Christmas assistance, the charity now has a robust year-round mission and has become one of Southwest Missouri's largest children's charities. They serve Greene, Northern Christian and Western Webster counties.

HGH assists families with utilities, rent, gas vouchers and educational help throughout the year. Since 2006 they have assisted almost 2,600 families and over 9,000 children with a Merrier Christmas. They also offer a used car program that has become one of the largest in the Midwest, with over 130 vehicles donated to families in need since the program's inception.
