Four-Way Test

The Four Way Test of the things we think, say, or do...

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Heather Nelson

Co-Founder + President of Seal Solar

Heather Nelson is president of Seal Solar, the solar design and installation firm she co-founded with Josh Davenport in 2012. A corporate lender for some of the nation's largest banks for nearly two decades, she has helped Seal Solar become one of Arkansas's leading solar businesses. Under her leadership, the firm has completed more than 425, or approximately one in five, solar projects in the state. Today, its team of nearly 40 certified local professionals offers turnkey solutions to homeowners, businesses, government entities and farmers across Arkansas.

Heather currently serves as an adjunct professor at the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. She is on the Arkansas Advanced Energy Association (AAEA) Board of Directors, AAEA Distributed Generation Task Force, Arkansas History Commission, Junior Achievement of Arkansas Board of Directors, The Excel Center at Goodwill School Advisory Council and UA Little Rock Foundation Fund Board. She regularly travels to Haiti with the Global Orphan Project of Kansas City, Missouri. She previously served two terms on the National Board of Directors for the Arkansas Alumni Association and as president of the Sam M. Walton College of Business Alumni Society. She is a former committee member for the UA-Little Rock Alumni Association's Taste of Little Rock, which raised scholarship funds for Central Arkansas students.

In 2019, she received the Entrepreneur of the Year Award from her alma mater, the University of Sam M. Walton College of Business. An Arkansas native, she also holds an MBA from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.
