PROGRAM: Keisha Howe introduced our speakers, 4H high school seniors Alexis Hummel and Grave Driver. Both shared their experience with the 4H fair program this year in the face of school closings related to the pandemic. They thanked their advisors, Mr. Thompson and Mrs. Kelly, who helped care for the 31 pigs for over a month while the students were out of school. They talked about the challenges in caring for the animals, and for finding generous households to keep the pigs and allow the students to continue feeding and maintaining the animals away from school in preparation for the fair. This year, the students were still able to bring their pigs onto the fairgrounds and show them, but all bidding was done electronically, with no observers on site at the fair. In the end, the experience was beyond the normal scope of the program, but the fair board, the advisors, the community, and the students still made it happen. In the words of Mr. Thompson, "We don't have kids to raise livestock, we have livestock to help raise our kids."

Until next time,
