ANNOUNCEMENTS:

- ★ Remember the Annual Jim Maatsch Golf Outing coming up on August 13. Get those teams ready!
- ★ President Chuck encouraged everyone to select their committee choices this week or they will be assigned.

SPOTLIGHT: Paul C. Tomasek put a new twist on the Rotary Spotlight. After informing us that he was actually born and raised in the Ovid Elsie area, and not Mexico, he turned it into a Q & A session. He is married to his wife Jeanne, and they are both Edward Jones agents in the Charlotte area. They have two children, daughter Lexi and son John. In addition, Lexi and her husband recently added Paul and Jeanne’s first grandchild to the family. Paul also showed that he is one of the more popular figures in the club, as his phone rang several times during the session! However, he chose not to expand upon Jim Cicorelli’s question, in regards to the meaning of his middle name, Colon! But all in all, a very successful Spotlight as Paul also showed off his Rotary “I’m keeping my shirt clean” stylish bib presented to him by his friends from the center table. As many of you may know, this has been a challenge for Paul in the past! Thanks Paul!!

NEXT WEEK SPOTLIGHT: Amy Gilson.

50 / 50: Joel Fox collected $69 with $35 going to the winner, Lee Wheaton.

SGT-AT-ARMS: In addition to giving the Spotlight, Bandito Pablo also had the barrel today and collected from President Chuck and from 50/50 winner Lee. He then collected from his center table amigos, Moe and Chic, for helping him with his wardrobe. But hey, the shirt stayed clean today! Finally, Tim Reed gave a happy dollar for the heartfelt sharing of Paul’s life story earlier in the spotlight. After hugging it out and nearly having their man-cards revoked, Pablo sat down and the Rotary meeting continued!

PROGRAM: President Chuck introduced Keisha Howe, who spoke briefly about the new East Side Food Pantry in Charlotte. The Pantry was started simply to help those in need in our community. It is stocked through contributions and is primarily dry goods and nonperishable items. Keisha spoke of the challenge of keeping it stocked, especially during the intense heat of summer and winter freezing temps. She hopes that in the future, power might be available to the shelter to help alleviate these concerns. For more information on how you can help contribute, please contact Keisha.

NEXT MEETING – August 6, 2019 – International Studies, Tim Reed

Until then,

Purdue Pete
