Chris Gobble, owner of The Little Yellow Frame Shop, told us about her business. She has been there for 22 years. At first the building, built in 1870, was leased from Glen (Glen of Gull Lake) Zylstra. When Glen died, the building was purchased from his estate. Chris and her husband, Paul, live above the shop with their two daughters. Chris told us about framing and art preservation. She also told us about how much she and Paul do for this community.

Thanks to Judi Brown and Bruce Heleniak for working the greeters table.

Announcements

The next Food Bank packing day will be Thursday March 26, following the club meeting. Contact Mike Gallagher to volunteer.

We are nearing our club goals for donations to The Rotary Foundation and Polio Plus. Your gift now can get us there.

The Meet Michigan Authors program that had been scheduled for March 25 has been postponed indefinitely.

The GLARC Public Image Committee will meet at RACC at 5:30 on Thursday March 26.

We have created an e-mail list of "Friends of Rotary". These are people who are not currently members of our club but who have an interest in our club. People on the lists will get (weekly) a copy of our club newsletter and will also receive (every once in a while) messages about special programs and some of our activities. We will tell about our projects and offer them the chance to volunteer to help us. Please give Pete Graham names and e-mail addresses of people you are suggesting for the list, but please ask their permission to be included first.

For the Richland Food Pantry, please bring canned or packaged food or personal items. For March, cake mixes and frosting are suggested. Money is also welcome.
