Announcements:

- President Daneka Hedges reminded the club that Alice and Lee Chapman are in need of meals. July is covered but if you would like to volunteer for the month of August (beginning Aug. 13) please contact Daneka dhedges@mhsystem.org or Laura lmiller@settlers.bank
- Dave Vandenberg announced that Leslie Bucina's test came back with results stating the cancer appears to be in remission. A resounding applause filled the room. Continued prayers for Leslie as she recovers and begins 90 days of amino therapy.
- Matt Evans announced that July 30th is the scholarship meeting and we could use some volunteers to host the students. Please contact Matt if you are interested in helping out. Matt.evans@pebo.com
- Daneka Hedges gave a report from the Board meeting date 7/14/20. She shared which board member was responsible for various branches of our Rotary services:
 - Ken Morrison, Club Administration
 - Jacky Miner, Club Development
 - Dave Vandenberg, Community Service
 - Davis Powers, Club Service
 - Tash Werry, Youth Service
 - McKenzie Allen, Finance
 - Laura Miller, 100 Year Celebration

Centennial Moment:

Peter Keim gave a high-level view of what and why Rotary requires (or used to require) a Classification for each member. He presented a humorous and informative history of our club, including some members who were "black-balled" in the past due to the "quota of one", which meant a particular profession was already represented in the club. The goal was to get a cross representation of the entire business community in the area of a club, while avoiding business competition in the club. (Today, it is dependent on the club whether they want to include the classification, or professional occupation, on a badge or not. Our club continues to put the classification on the badge for networking purposes and conversation starters. Although, our club no longer "black-balls" anybody due to repetition of an already represented business.)

Good News/Bad News:

- Dave Vandenberg shared that his daughter, who has lived all over Europe and the Middle East, in numerous dangerous scenarios and locations, just told him that her husband is being promoted to UN office in New York City!!!

- Mark Kerényi stated that they just graduated their first two participants of the new Drug Corp Recovery Program. The two graduates are doing well and are engaged successfully in the community, plus one is taking assertive steps to help others who struggle with drug addiction.
 - Also, Mark will be gone the next couple of weeks because he is taking a 2 week motorcycle journey with a bunch of his buddies out west. Mark will be riding his Gold Wing (also known as the mini-van of motorcycles, per Laura Miller).
- Hunt Brawly shared that, because they still have no specific guidance from the Governor on opening Theaters, they will continue live-streaming concerts on their facebook site. Check in at www.peoplesbanktheatre.com to see upcoming shows and information.
- Bill White shared that he and Diane are celebrating their 48th Wedding Anniversary! Congrats, Bill!
- Tom Fenton congratulated Judge Mark Kerényi on a job well done concerning the success of the Drug Corps recovery program. Tom stated that it is a phenomenal system with an approach that is now proven successful.
- Eric Erb put a buck in the can so he could tell Dave Vandenberg he was sorry that Dave's daughter was moving from the Middle East to the most dangerous city on earth, New York City!

Sgt. At Arms: Laura Miller

Laura : My daughter was recently diagnosed with the Coronavirus, however the only symptom she exhibited was a loss of taste. no taste whatsoever - which made me think---Terry Rataiczak must have coronavirus, because have you seen the wild mask he's wearing today? No taste whatsoever.

And speaking of no taste Bill white sent me an email the other day as we were bantering about some business details, and he wrote: Out of curiosity, why is bra singular and panties plural? Get $1 from Bill for being completely inappropriate (and by the way, for those of you who are grossly offended, that never really happened).

And while we're on the subject of no taste- we've all seen Past Pres Shawn's haircut? Right? Get $1 --- no, $5 from Shawn for subjecting us to that nightmare. Yes, it's a lot, but since he was promoted and is making the big bucks now, he can afford it.

Well, coronavirus has clearly rendered many club members tasteless. Have you seen some of the masks? Like Davis Powers who can't decide whether he's Freddy Kruger or Hannibal Lector. Get $3 from Davis for scaring innocent women, children, and meeker gentlemen.

Laura continued on with stories about Johnny Wharf and McKenzie Allen. She was hysterically funny, as per usual.

Speaker: Doug Pfeiffer, CEO of I & P Services.

Doug is a clinician and the owner/CEO of L & P Services since 2016. His past practical experience in counseling services has been primarily with adolescents and, consequently, he has added a strong youth services program to L & P, working with 5 of the 6 local school districts. Why? A child's brain is formative and responds well to therapy due to how quickly their brain can change.

Because crisis is not by appointment, L & P accepts walk in appointments, along with their regular cases that are managed by case managers.

Doug discussed brain mapping strategies and begins all treatment with the assumption all people do well if they can. If an individual has sought out L & P Services, something is preventing them from doing well, and that's where L & P begins.

THIS WEEKS PROGRAM 7/23/20: Andy Thompson's Memorial

Split the Pot: Matt Evans won the weekly prize of $ 48 and missed the jackpot of $1,149. The game goes on!
