VIRTUAL ROTARY-AUGUST 17, 2020: JEFF BARRIE, TENNESSEE ENVIRONMENTAL COUNCIL

The solutions to even the greatest global and local environmental challenges begin at home, with the individual and our daily practices. Barrie will shed light on the global significance of the small things we do every day and how you can participate in the solutions from the safety and comfort of your home.

Jeff has advocated for environmental solutions throughout his entire professional career, which he launched in 1993 after graduating from UCLA with a B.A. in Environmental Studies. Ever since, Jeff has applied his loves of filmmaking and grassroots organizing towards the cause, and derives great fulfillment in making a difference in this field. Jeff has produced award-winning feature documentaries on the value of Environmental Education (Generation Earth — 1995), the importance of preserving the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge (Arctic Quest — 1999), and the benefits of energy efficiency, conservation and renewable power (Kilowatt Ours — 2008). Jeff has defined his career by leveraging the power of documentary storytelling combined with public strategies to lead to positive changes in the world.
