

The Four Way Test
 Of the things we think, say or do first... Is it the TRUTH?
 second... Is it FAIR to all concerned?
 third... Will it build GOOD WILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?
 fourth... Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned?

This Week: Buddy Payne

Dr. H.E. "Buddy" Payne, Jr. received his professional training at Florida College (A.A.), Florida State University (B.S. in Science Education), Harvard University (M.A.T. in Science Education) and University of South Florida (Ph.D. in Mathematics Education).

He joined the Florida College faculty in 1972. He has taught chemistry and mathematics and has served as Registrar, Dean of Students, Vice President and Academic Dean, and is now in his 11th year as President of Florida College. His faith has always been of greatest importance in his life, and in 1993 he took a two-year leave of absence in order to preach the gospel in Romania following the fall of the Iron Curtain.

As a science and mathematics educator, he has devoted much time and energy to the study and discussion of intelligent design and evolution issues. He has been invited to deliver numerous lectures on this topic on college campuses and in other settings.

He has also been active in civic associations, including the Temple Terrace Chamber of Commerce and Tampa North Rotary Club, where he served as president in 2002-2003.

Dr. Payne and his wife Marilyn have been married for 54 years. They have four children and 16 grandchildren.

Rotary Members to the Rescue

By Arnold R. Grahl

An army of hobbyists and educators equipped with 3D printers are producing face shields and other personal protective equipment (PPE) to help frontline health care workers battle the coronavirus. Among them are two Rotary members, who are using their knowledge and resources—along with their Rotary connections—to tackle the shortage of PPE caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

Scott Franklin, a professor of mathematics and computer science at Wayland Baptist University in Plainview, Texas, brought home his university's four 3D printers and is creating about 24 face shields a day. The Rotary Club of Plainview, of which he's a member, has supported his efforts through grants, donations, and encouragement.

Meanwhile, Jacob Lasorso, who teaches 3D printing design at Suncoast Technical College in Sarasota, Florida, created a home workshop with six 3D printers he assembled from his school and others and is producing close to 4 face shields a day. His initiative is supported by members of his Rotary Club of Venice Sunrise in Florida.

Lasorso uses transparency film in his PPE. Suncoast Technical College, where he works, donated 1,000 sheets. The design he is using, which the NIH approved, includes a visor that prevents splatters from going up and over the transparency sheet. Elastic bands, which he found on the handicrafts website Etsy, secure the visors around the back of people's heads.

Lasorso and the county's certified technical education director obtained several more printers from nearby schools that agreed to lend them. His setup prints four visors a machine every 12 hours. Because of the amount of time it takes, Lasorso sets them to print overnight, and starts a new cycle every morning.

"We fall asleep and hear the 3D printers on the other side of our house," says Lasoro's spouse, Mallory, who also is a member of the Venice Sunrise club. "It's like white noise at this point."

Mallory created a Google form that she posted on Facebook for people to request face shields. Using connections through the club, they've distributed visors to medical offices and clinics. They also sent several to firefighters in Tampa, Florida, and 20 to the son of a club member who runs several nursing homes in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The Venice Sunrise Club has paid for additional materials, supplies, and maintenance parts to keep production going. In addition to personal donations, they received $4,000 from the Charles and Margery Barancik foundation, which supports causes in Florida and Chicago, Illinois.

Mallory says she and her husband didn't join Rotary for the networking. But the connections they've made through the club are a big part of what they enjoy and what makes their club effective.

"Whatever reason you join, it's the common desire to do good in the world that holds us together," she says.

Franklin agrees: "We all have the same heart for service, the same heart to make our community a better place. An event like the pandemic happens and through Rotary you have such a broad spectrum of expertise and mission-mindedness. There are people looking for new ways to serve and make the world better."

"Rotary gives us a unique opportunity to connect with others throughout the world. Once someone gets an idea, we have the means to get it funded and act on it." ~ Jay Givens

Discovering the Power of Rotary during a Pandemic

By Nathan Rizzo, RC of San Antonio, Texas

I have been a member of my club for two years, but it was in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic that I learned what it truly means to be a Rotarian. When my state of Texas went into quarantine, our club president, Brandon Logan, set up a "virtual happy hour" on Thursday evenings. It was amazing to see all of the friendly, smiling faces of my fellow Rotarians. We spent an hour catching up; and then our conversation turned to service, and what we could do to help during the pandemic.

Our club had adopted a local elementary school for the 2019-20 Rotary year. We had already created a Rotary reading room at the school to provide a quiet place for the students to read and do homework. We also made improvements to the campus through a program we call Kingdom for Kids. We knew we could not abandon the school during this time of need. When we reached out to the school principal to ask how we could help, her answer was succinct. They needed:

1. Food
2. Access to food drives
3. School supplies

It was in organizing an event to meet those needs that I learned about the power of Rotary. Our club had connection with the San Antonio Food Bank and the United Way. Within a week, we had a project confirmed and scheduled. We had offers of trucks, boxes, and anything else we needed to run the food drive, and it all came from our members.

Three weeks later, we had 60 Rotarians, 10 other volunteers, and staff at the school ready for our first Saturday delivery. The plan included sorting food pallets dropped off by the San Antonio Food Bank in the parking lot of the school, creating separate stations for individual food items. Volunteers would then drive by each station while other volunteers loaded the items into vehicles.

Each family received meat, vegetables, fruit, non-dairy milk, bread, flour, and other staples. Through our third distribution, we have delivered over 100,000 pounds of food to serve approximately 5,000 people.

I knew our club was more than just a "lunch" club but I was amazed at how quickly we were able to come together to serve our community in such a meaningful way. I truly believe that when Rotarians unite in a mission, we can do anything.
