Durl Jensen of CDI World USA appointed to EACA Board

By David Cesar on Friday, July 23, 2021

Our very own, Durl Jensen of CDI World USA appointed to EACA Board.

The Exhibitor Appointed Contractor Association (EACA) is the trade show and events industry association dedicated to raising the level of service excellence on the show floor. The Association's recent appointment of Durl Jensen, President of Atlanta-based CDI World USA, continues its policy of drawing on the insight of highly experienced industry leaders.

Durl's appointment comes at a time of huge turmoil and uncertainty for the trade show and events industry and for the businesses and brands it serves. To be offered a Director's role by the Association would be a great honor at any time but especially so in current circumstances, said Durl, who is well aware of the challenges ahead but remains optimistic.

The skilled people that work in our industry are amongst the most adaptable out there. They have always been about developing new approaches and finding solutions for clients. We're seeing some really creative thinking and new ideas coming through and that's ultimately going to make the industry stronger and more resilient.

The Exhibitor Appointed Contractors Association is the trade show industry's only association dedicated to raising the level of service excellence on the show floor. The mission of the EACA is to create tangible value for its members, and the entire trade show industry, by leveraging the combined strength of the EAC community. The association is currently comprised of more than 150 member companies representing more than 12,500 full time trade show professionals, and more than 50,000 part time trade show workers. The association is headquartered in Bend, Oregon.

Eugene Louis Fleeman Jr. became a Paul Harris Fellow for the first time. Hiram C. Allen IV and Irvine Weekes both achieved plus levels of the Paul Harris Fellow

The Paul Harris Fellow recognition acknowledges individuals who contribute, or who have contributions made in their name, of $1,000 to the Rotary Foundation.

Rotary established the recognition in 1957 to encourage and show appreciation for substantial contributions to what was then the Foundation's only program, Rotary Foundation Fellowships for Advanced Study, the precursor to Ambassadorial Scholarships.

Tiny House Communities & the Cottages on Vaughn (in Clarkston, GA)

The Executive Director of the MicroLife Institute and a thought leader and innovator in the micro living world. Over the past six years, his organization has enabled policy change and brought acceptance of micro structures in the Southeast through events, projects and advocacy. His philosophy is allowing people to think outside the box by putting them in one.

Before founding the MicroLife Institute, Johnston was Manager for Community and Customer Engagement at The Atlanta Journal Constitution. Over his tenure he expanded his talent in event marketing and production as well as built his network in Atlanta and worked with several Non-Profits fundraising and producing events. Johnston is an avid traveler and loves staying in the smallest of places all around the world. He is a graduate of LEAD Atlanta (Class of 2012), ULI Atlanta Center For Leadership Program (Class of 2019) and is currently in school for a Masters in Community Development at UGA.
