At the Rotary Club of Stone Mountain we work hard for our community, and we take a little time to rejuvenate ourselves too! On Wednesday September 1, several members of our club along with their family members got together for a social gathering at the new Cherokee Rose restaurant in downtown Stone Mountain. The members of our club wer welcomed by the restaurant's owner Johnathan Hartnett who showed exceptional southern hospitality. This fellowship was instrumental in instilling good relationship among club members as they continue working through our commitment in serving the community. Also notable: During this event, Dr. Thomas Smith presented former RCSM President Cynthia Edwards a print created by an artist during his trip working with teachers and students in Tanzania, Africa in recognition for all of her achievements during her presidency.
