If You Missed Rotary Last Week...

By Thomas Woodbery

You missed great advice on how to bust out of a boring home.

Interior designer Lesley Myrick gave us a brisk presentation from her own home office - what was once a closet, converted to allow her to have quality work time away from her small child.

Lesley is new to Macon, moving here last year from Waco, TX with her husband, who is in the music department at Mercer. She showed us "before and after" room designs she has made, how she helps repurpose space and furniture, and the importance of investing in good lighting and a comfy chair for a home office.

Lesley's enthusiasm comes through even during a Zoom meeting. She has a podcast called "Bust Out of Boring" and she offered prospective Rotary clients a 20-minute complimentary design consultation.

For more information about her and her services, contact lesley@lesleymyrick.com
