TODAY’S SPEAKER

Shelley Spivey
 Owner of Waves Autism Center

My name is Shelley Spivey. I am originally from Americus, Georgia and a 1985 graduate of Southland Academy. I grew up watching my grandparents manage the Americus Country Club in all areas of business, until they retired after serving the needs of others for over 40 years when I was in high school. Twenty years ago I moved to Perry, Georgia after I married my husband, who works at Robins Air Force Base as a Security Specialist. We currently live in Bonaire with our two sons, Cameron and Schuyler, who make me proud everyday. While my boys were growing up, I graduated from Liberty University with a degree in education and later attended Mercer University School of Medicine for two years in the marriage and family therapy program, before transferring and graduating from Northcentral University. During my internship, I worked at the Mercer Family Therapy Clinic, Hodac, and Grace Village here in Perry. After graduation I went into private practice with Maureen Dejonge the owner of Real Hope Counseling in Kathleen and later worked as a child therapist at Christian Counseling Services at Mabel White in Macon before opening my own private practice in Bonaire. Currently, I am the owner of Waves Autism Center in Warner Robins.
