A great morning last week if you missed us! We heard from Toni Chrabot who shared with us some news she provided TV viewers when she visited New4Jax regarding safety and current events. We also had a fun and lively visit by a rowdy cowboy and cowgirl sipping whiskey chatting up the MCC at Bowling Oaks Plantation. Sounds like it's going to be a slap your knee kind of time if you ask me! Thanks to Lori and Todd for always keeping it fun!

Doc Renuart introduced our speaker Chuck Meide who directs the research program for the Lighthouse Archaeological Maritime Program, or LAMP. The current research goal of the St. Augustine Lighthouse Archaeological Maritime Program (LAMP) is to better understand and share the founding story of the oldest port city in the United States, a story of national and international significance. Above all things, the story of our region is a story about the sea. It begins with France and Spain vying for control of the region in the late 16th century, which led to the founding of the City of St. Augustine. Their research aims to shed light on how this colonial conflict led to the founding not only of a city, but of a nation and a global society still in the making. They also study how the city has been able to sustain itself continually across the centuries and the impacts that our seaside and riverine geography had on our unique culture and heritage.

January 21st Program: CEO of MOSH, Bruce Fafard (Live and in person)

Bruce J. Fafard is the Chief Executive Officer at MOSH. Fafard has more than 30 years of experience in various industries including aerospace, insurance, manufacturing and retail. Prior to joining MOSH, Fafard served as President & CEO of 121 Financial Credit Union, CEO of Scient Federal Credit Union and held a variety of positions at Connex Credit Union. He earned his Masters of Business Administration from the University of New Haven and his Bachelor of Science in economics from Southern Connecticut State University. He also earned the Certified Innovation Executive designation from the Credit Union Executive Society. Fafard currently serves on several boards and committees including Leadership Jacksonville, Northeast Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) and the JAX Chamber.
