This Week's Speaker: Jaraad Hines

Jaraad Hines co-founded Hinesight along with his parents Dr. Daniel Hines and Dr. Benda Hines in May of 2017. In a very short time Hinesight has not only been featured on the front page of the Free Lance Star and in Fredericksburg Parent Magazine, but it has changed many lives. Hinesight's mission is to address generational poverty through family empowerment. There are three departments tasked with accomplishing this mission: "Youth Mentorship" for middle school aged students, "Know-How" for adults and the parents of our mentees, and lastly "Community" for empowering the whole family to give back to others in need.

May 8 Meeting

Our speaker at the May 8 meeting was Charlie Russell of SAW's Virginia, an ecumenical mission that builds wheelchair ramps for persons with disabilities, trapped inside their homes, who cannot afford a ramp of their own. Priority is given to disabled veterans. For over 15 years, SAWs has constructed strong, to code, wooden ramps transforming the lives of thousands of clients and caregivers. Ramps are provided to qualified indigent persons at no cost. Volunteers are recruited from any group, church, social group or company interested in helping those in need in their community. SAW's services the areas of Fredericksburg, Stafford, Spotsylvania, and King George.
