Applications for the grant open in March and winners are notified in July. Two proposals are being considered to benefit programs at Carroll Community College. One is to supply equipment for an EMS program and the other is to buy equipment for a digital fabrication lab. Both provide opportunities for the development of a career path for students. Dawn noted that money also exists for global grants as well as local grants. A project called Coins for Alzheimer's Research is under consideration. Buckets are provided at different locations for people to contribute money to fund research. She announced that the May District Conference will be held at the Hyatt in Cambridge and the Rotary International Conference will be held next year in Honolulu.
