Glenn Harbeck - Director of Planning, Development and Transportation at City of Wilmington

Glenn Harbeck is the Director of Planning, Development and Transportation at City of Wilmington. Glenn will talk about the City's new comprehensive plan.

Wilmington is attracting new residents at a pace not seen since World War II, when thousands of workers flocked to the city to build hundreds of Liberty ships. In the next 20 years, we could see 50,000 to 60,000 more people in the city and 300,000 more in the three-county region. Where will that many people live? Work? Shop? How will they move about the region? How can we build our city and our region to best accommodate the growth that is surely coming our way?

Major demographic changes are fast emerging. Baby boomers are downsizing, looking for homes convenient to services and with less maintenance. They want to age in place. Many millennials are shunning traditional single family homes in favor of apartments and townhomes closer to work, shopping and entertainment. Millennials, and the generation after them, also have less interest in the private automobile, preferring other transportation options.

We are all feeling the growth pressure where it impacts us the most on our roads. The rapid growth and sprawling development patterns of the past 30 years in particular are now challenging the capacity of our infrastructure. And, it's getting worse as people move farther out in search of affordability and the hope of escaping traffic congestion.

If our past patterns of growth are failing us, are there better ways? This presentation will provide perspectives on the growth of our city and region, and ways to build a better Wilmington.

Glenn leads three divisions within Wilminngton: Planning, Transportaiton and Traffic Engineering and has been in this role since June 2012.

Glenn Harbeck spent most of his 40-year career as a consulting city planner, with a client list that included over 100 communities across the United States and Canada. In 2012, he accepted the position of Director of Planning, Development, and Transportation for the City of Wilmington. There, he leads a team responsible for comprehensive planning, development review, traffic engineering, transportation planning, urban design and historic preservation. Glenn has degrees in environmental studies and regional planning from the State University of New York at Syracuse and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. While traveling far and wide for his work, he and his family have enjoyed calling Wilmington home since 1979.

What Have You Missed Out On?

If you are not attending our Zoom Meetings, are you missing out on anything? Of course you are.

Who made the slogan "Put A Tiger In Your Tank" famous? He was made Advertising Head and he gave the board a choice of live tigers or fake tigers. They chose live and it took off. The first commercial had three different tigers in it. One had a great face, one could run well and one could jump. People love animals and to say the least the campaign was a fantastic success. Everyone was putting tiger tails on their gas tanks. Our mystery person has been retired from this position for many years but still getting his paycheck.

Christmas Families

Huge THANK YOU to all that have responded for the Christmas Families. We are getting closer - we have $3,100 pledged to date.

Note to Board Members: I am not sure I got everyone's name down that spoke up at the board meeting. If you could please respond in an email, that would be most helpful. The last thing I want to do is charge you for a pledge that you did not make.

We need your help more than ever this year. There are so many families that have been completely devastated during the COVID-19.

We plan to do our Christmas Family Project again this year. There are families that would not even have a Christmas if it were not for our club. As you know, we show up at Target and have families scheduled to come in at various times and when they arrive they are told how much money they have for Santa. All they know when they arrive is that someone will be there to help them pay for Christmas.

The club matches us on our contributions. So, if you pledge $100, then we actually have $200 with the club match. Our goal is to get to $8,000 - $4,000 from our members and $4,000 from the club. Of course, if we pass our goal - all the better. The more we have - the more we can help. If you could please respond to this email with your pledge, we will invoice you. Thanks so much for your support.

WE ARE THE BEST ROTARY CLUB IN THE UNIVERSE!!!
