President's Weekly Post

By Clint Jaeger Berry on Tuesday, June 22, 2021

Dear SBI Rotarians,

As we reach the end of my term, this is my final weekly President's Letter. It has been an honor and a privilege to lead this team of outstanding professionals. While these letters have gotten shorter as the weeks have gone by, my admiration for each of you has only grown. I am inspired by what we have accomplished during this year and excited about the years to come. Please join me in supporting Kathleen and Tim this coming year.

For all of your support and kindness, thank you.

Yours in Service,

Clint

Rotary Club honors deputy for tornado rescue

By LAURA LEWIS
BEACON EDITOR

There were few dry eyes when tornado survivor Jeanne Glick and her rescuer, Brunswick County Sheriff's Deputy Jodie McCall, were called to the front of the room last Friday night at the Crow Creek clubhouse.

Members of the South Brunswick Islands Rotary Club, who had convened for the June 11 dinner meeting, are part of a long civic history of supporting first responders, noted Clint Berry, outgoing club president.

This night, he said, was particularly poignant because it involved law enforcement, one officer in particular — McCall — for her heroic efforts aiding and saving Glick in the aftermath of the horrific Feb. 15 tornado that struck her community, Ocean Ridge, killing Glick's husband, Barry, and two other residents, Richard and Phyllis O'Connor.

It also marked the first time for the two women to reunite since that treacherous night four months ago.

"It's rare we get this opportunity, but it's even rarer when we get the opportunity with some of the people she's been able to help," Berry said.

Jeanne Glick and BCSO Deputy Jodie McCall are reunited during an emotional tribute Friday night by the South Brunswick Islands Rotary Club.

Clint Berry, outgoing president of the South Brunswick Islands Rotary Club, pays tribute to Brunswick County Sheriff's Office Deputy Jodie McCall for her efforts rescuing Jeanne Glick, right, following the late-night Feb. 15 tornado that struck Ocean Ridge. Glick's husband, Barry, along with Richard and Phyllis O'Connor, were killed.

"It's a little emotional for me," he added. "I wasn't the one there. But the South Brunswick Islands Rotary Club gratefully acknowledges the extraordinary efforts of Deputy Jodie McCall and all the members of the Brunswick County Sheriff's Office on the night of Feb. 15, 2021.

"As the tornado wreaked havoc on Ocean Ridge Plantation and surrounding areas, we note in particular Jodie's kindness and attention to Jeanne Glick as she struggled to survive the aftermath of the storm," Berry said, drawing applause and a standing ovation for the two women standing at the front of the room, hands clasped.

"We extend our sincere thanks to Jodie and the entire Brunswick County Sheriff's Office," Berry said. "It's such an honor — thank you!"

He said the club has a long history of supporting first responders, "those who are out there doing what we do, that are living the (Rotary) Four-Way Test in their lives and their professions," crediting club members' voluntary efforts.

"But out in the community, there are a host of people who choose to do that as a career, all day and every day, and that puts them on a different level," Berry said. "It makes them responsible for so many things."

The club has supported Brunswick County's front-line workers through COVID, orchestrating benefits for emergency services as a whole, he said, adding law enforcement is a slightly different niche and level of responsibility.

"Law enforcement doesn't just respond to help people," Berry said. "They help people in every possible situation, not just medical but sometimes dangerous. They're enforcing law; they're enforcing our civil liberties. And the enforcement part of law enforcement is considerably more challenging in many ways than other professions. They protect us, they shield us and they help us. So it's a great honor to be able to support law enforcement as a rule and in general."

He said it was also a true honor to have a chance to recognize McCall along with Glick.

According to club membership chairman Ed O'Neill, during that horrible night after the tornado hit, destroying the Glicks' Cambria Court home, McCall rescued Jeanne Glick during the ensuing chaos and power outage as emergency crews descended in the dark of night with only their own lights to guide them.

"(McCall) especially helped Jeanne Glick get extricated from the pile of rubble on top of her," he said, anticipating the Rotary meeting would be an emotional reunion as the two met again for the first time since then.

He was right.

For those who may be interested, 100 Club is open again since we drew four $250 winning numbers at the Induction Banquet. Congratulations to the winners!

Remember that we sell 100 numbers for $25 each, and from that $2,500 we then give away $500 in weekly drawings of $25 each week, and at our Christmas Party we will draw 4 numbers with each one winning $250! That leaves us $1,000.00 which covers one of our West Brunswick High School Scholarships at the end of the year! A great cause. Numbers are still available for purchase but going fast.

If you are attending in person, see MEG and Gary at the meeting registration desk for the purchase. If you are attending via zoom, please call or email Gary.
