Today's Program: South Carolina Superintendent of Education
- Honorable Molly Spearman

Last Week's Program

Our guest speaker last week was Speaker of the South Carolina House of Representatives Jay Lucas, who has served as Speaker of the House since 2014. He gave credit to Governor Henry McMaster for his efforts to keep businesses open during the COVID pandemic, noting that the state has seen unprecedented growth in business revenue. He told us that the legislature is waiting until January to decide how they will spend the Federal COVID relief funds of $8.9B that have been designated for South Carolina.
