Last Week's Program

Our guest speaker last week was South Carolina Superintendent of Education the Honorable Molly Spearman. She stated their mission at the Department of Education was to prepare every high school student for college, career, and citizenship. COVID has put students, on average, 3-5 months behind in their learning. She noted that the lower grades have had the highest impact. The federal government has sent a lot of funding to our schools, and those funds have been used for the Palmetto Literacy Project and Early Childhood Education Expansion, among other programs..
