And now when I tell you... Show me your card. All four of the sayings were in their cards!!!! Amazing! Nice John!

Phil is a real sport! That's no cheeseburger!

Pseudo President Chris then led a rousing rendition of "God Bless America," that brought down the house!

Pictured are Cliff Doctorman, RI President 1992-93. Tod & Bobbie Anton talking to Charter Member, Ross & Marilyn Bewley. Frosty & Julie Gelbke were there as with best friends and District Governors, Judy Lovett and Susan Drake. We presented Cliff a plaque and announced the creation of the Clifford L Doctorman Annual Scholarship, to go to UOP Students, honoring Cliff and our 50th anniversary.

(Left) As I join the ranks of the “Octogenarians”, I particularly appreciate the memory of this shared moment in the Oval Office, with my Boss at the time, President Gerald R. Ford, who would live on to join the “Company of Old Men”... As he lived to the venerable age of 93... Using all those years for public service and leadership!

Dave started his presentation with a white board with 10 Milestone Moments of a campaign.

1. Into the Fray: That’s deciding to run and starting the machine. He reminisced about Julian Reed calling him and asking him if he’d help on John Connally’s campaign. Much later he called again, asked if Dave remembered the call. Dave said vaguely, Julian said, The campaigns a go, let’s go!

2. Punching the Ticket: That’s filing all the forms, paying all the fees, campaign headquarters, and arranging that in every state!

3. Building the Brand: Getting exposure. Pictures and Headlines in National Papers. Quirky stories seem to grab headlines, you never know. They needed to hit every county in Iowa for John Connally's Presidential run in six days. Unfortunately, that meant all nighters. Dave remembers pulling up to the famous King Tower Truck Stop in Tama, Iowa, in the middle of the night. The place was packed. All the supporters were more interested in seeing John Connally’s scar from the JFK Assassination, and the candidate obliged them. Meanwhile, Dave was out front, in the highway, holding up traffic while reporter Garrick Utley gave a News report on NBC in front of the famous street sign!

4. Campaign Goes Hot: Hopefully!

5. Campaigns Consolidate Gains: Looking for delegates. Gov. Connally ended his campaign suddenly and Dave was recommended to the Ronald Reagan camp.

6. Conventions Set the Tickets: Count the delegates and get on the ticket. Ford, Reagan neck and neck, Ford ends up running as Reagan’s VP.

7. Kick Off Labor Day: Campaigns launched in full. Reagan in Detroit at Michigan State Fair. A heckler in a Jimmy Carter mask yells at Ronnie. Ron says, “I know you’re not Jimmy Carter, He’s down south at a KKK Meeting.” Manager Jim Baker had a closed door meeting and said, “Do not let Ronnie talk. He’ll blow it!”

8. General Election, Debate Season: Feature of the fall. Reagan vs Carter, Kemp vs Gore and Dick Cheney vs Joe Lieberman. At Kemp’s debate the podium was set for the very tall Presidential candidates. They went out and got Jack a back brace and the tallest heeled cowboy boots they could find. It raised him up by 4 inches and looked fine on TV.

9. Begin the Final Victory March: After the debates it’s two weeks for a victory march or a death march! They have to crank up the pace, 16 cities in 6 states in 6 days.

The fateful day, The Kennedy's and the Connally's.

10. Election Night, Victory Party: Jimmy Carter conceded 3 hours before they had planned! Talk about not prepared, so they got 3 extra hours for their celebration.

The next trek, 70 Days to the Inauguration!

Dave was asked about this election cycle. He said it's the most turbulent election ever. Customs and traditions of the primaries have been changed. He feels it was a mistake for the Democrats not to have Biden on the ballot in new Hampshire. He also said he is two weeks older than Joe Biden. Dave could not see himself doing the traveling and keeping the schedule that a campaign requires at his age.

Dave met Joe Biden in 1974 and was inspired by him. He called him a mentor. I have to thank Dave for his service and memories! You had to be there, so many stories, my fingers hurt.

Dave's final comment was that he hope reason will prevail and people will take control and use better judgement. If that happens, as it has in the past, we will be okay!

Looks like a card game could break out any minute!

The bell rang at 1:30PM.

Help us fight illiteracy Dave, Please!
