Broadcaster July 18, 2025

By Timothy E. Joy on Sunday, July 20, 2025

The start of a new Rotary Year begins with the first meeting under the gavel and leadership of President Candice Towers!

The assembled were asked to stand and recite the Pledge of Allegiance.

Liz Orbits (I love the purple hair!) presented this week's meditation. She offered the acknowledgement and support our club's leaders receive. She wished that our new President receive guidance and wisdom in decisions. That our club continue to offer compassion in service and unity in our purpose. A quote from Groucho Marx "out of a thousand men, one will be a leader. The other 999 follow women!"

President Candice reminded the club to sign up for meals each week. It facilitates ordering the proper amount of food.

The meeting started with a little fun. Each member received a Uno card with numbers 1 thru 6. Each table was designated 1 thru 6. The members had to move to that table for this meeting. That means you talk to someone else for a change! Lots of cheese moved!

Past Pres James strolled the room introducing Guests. Evan from Plymouth. Anna from Greenboro, NC. Another attempt to sing was had....

Lunch began with guests being first!

As the meeting resumed, Pres Candice showed a slide of July Birthdays!

Announcements:

Penny Joy announced the need for items desired for the October trip to Ghana. Penny and Michelle Hall will be making the trip. A list of items was on each table and will be collected at each meeting until August 29th. The list will be at the bottom of this Broadcaster. A beer and wine raffle will support the purchase of mosquito nets to prevent malaria.

Denise King addressed the club. This is Martins last day of his exchange. Martin spoke about his time here and how grateful he was for activity.

New member induction – Allen Samaha came to the podium with Preston Gee. Pres Candice inducted Allen into the Rotary Club of Plymouth!

Pres Candice spoke to the club about her upcoming year. She introduced the clubs Board of Directors. She spoke about the fun that we have as Rotarians. Volunteerism in Action! Community Impact! Days of Service!

Birthday kits for kids! Socializing!
She presented data about our club, our membership, our finances and more!

The 50/50 winner was Don (Soenen?). Second chance was- not here!

The Four Way Test wrapped up the meeting!
