Club Announcements

By Linda Marlene Cogozzo

Casting About, or everything you always wanted to know about Rotary but were too embarrassed to ask! Join Arlene Marcus for this casual social hour on Friday, November 20, 5 p.m., and BYOBeverage. The Zoom link will be sent to the membership the day before. No RSVP is need. For more information, email arlenebmarcus@comcast.net.

Bell Ringers: You can ring the Berkeley Rotary Bell to celebrate a birthday or an anniversary, in memory of a loved one, to share special news, and more. Your $100 donation goes to support Berkeley Rotary Endowment. Email President Chris Ahoy (ckahoy@iastate.edu) to reserve your spot at our weekly meeting.

Climate Minute: At our November 11 meeting, we shared a video on behalf of our Rotary Climate Action Team (RCAT). If you missed ◆We Need More Than a Coronavirus Lockdown to Solve Climate Change,◆ or want to watch it again, visit <https://bit.ly/3lp5OS8>.

Preparing for Quakes AND Rising Sea Levels in the Bay

By Frederick C. Collignon

Our speaker last Wednesday was Lindy Lowe, the Resilience Officer for the Port of San Francisco. She oversees the Waterfront Resilience Program for the San Francisco waterfront to prepare for future earthquakes and the flooding from rising sea levels. Speaking on "Building Resilience in San Francisco's Waterfront," Lowe gave a provocative and comprehensive briefing on the problems, process, and approach of the efforts begun three years ago to prepare for both seismic events and rising sea levels and to mitigate their impacts on lives, property, activities, and ecological and cultural treasures along the affected waterfront and inland areas.

Polio Update and the Story Behind the Vaccine-Derived Polio Cases

There are promising initial data after vaccinations and health outreach to the more remote villages have resumed. Only one new case of the wild poliovirus has been diagnosed in the last two weeks in the two remaining epidemic countries, Pakistan and Afghanistan. The Rotary campaign has focused on the wild poliovirus primarily since the start, but with our success, the circulating virus derived from vaccinations is increasingly more prevalent. The tradeoff is stark: Over the last 10 years fewer than 800 vaccine-derived cases (often without paralysis) versus 6,500,000 prevented cases of polio with paralysis. Learn about the vaccine-derived cases below. And please act on making some contribution or becoming a Polio Plus Warrior. The forms have twice gone out in recent newsletters, and the phone calls start this week.

Zone Institute Gives Club a Chance to Shine

The first-ever Virtual Zone Institute was held Thursday through Saturday this past week, and gave high visibility to several who have been involved with our club. It also suggested that as Rotary International sees us, we're about to or already have doubled in size and dramatically increased our diversity and youth. See more below.
