GSE Timeline

Below is a short timeline to aid you in successfully planning for your team's Group Study Exchange (GSE).

Introduction

What Is Group Study Exchange?

The Group Study Exchange (GSE) program is a unique cultural and vocational exchange opportunity for young business and professional men and women in their initial years of professional life. Rotary districts in different countries are paired to send and receive professional study groups of four to six non-Rotarian team members and one Rotarian team leader to travel for four to six weeks, staying in the homes of Rotarians when possible.

Launched in 1965, this dynamic program has built a successful track record at the personal, community, and international level. With good planning, a goal-driven itinerary, and active participation of dedicated Rotarians, a GSE can be an exceptional educational experience for both the visiting GSE team and local Rotarians.

Goals and Objectives

The GSE program is designed to develop professional and leadership skills among young adults, so that they can address the needs of their communities and an increasingly global workplace.

GSE participants follow an extensive and rigorous program of international travel and team activities.

- Vocational visits
 - Provide opportunities to observe vocations as practiced in another country
 - Impact team members' long-term careers through participation in an organized program of study, discussion, and reciprocal exchange of ideas in their respective fields
- Cultural experiences
 - Allow participants to study another country and its people, language, and institutions through experiences in an organized and meaningful host program
 - Promote an appreciation of cultural diversity worldwide
- Fellowship opportunities
 - Encourage team members and hosts to meet, communicate, and live with each other in a spirit of fellowship and goodwill
 - Consider each other's problems, aspirations, and community concerns
 - Foster lasting friendships and international understanding
- Rotarian involvement
 - Offers Rotarians specific, practical, and meaningful opportunities for international service by providing young, formative professionals a different perspective of their vocation in another country and culture

Inspiring others

Before this exchange I understood the philosophy behind the work that Rotary does, I understood how it began and what it aimed to do. I understood the structure as seen on paper, but I never actually realised what a powerful force Rotary is. Seeing firsthand what Rotary accomplishes... has given me hope and a new perspective on changing the world. I have been inspired to do more and want to pass on that inspiration to others. Rotary makes it all seem possible. I would be honoured to one day become a member of Rotary.

The Team

The Team Leader's Role

The team leader is the Rotarian who has been selected to handle these responsibilities:

- Build a team of individuals who will represent Rotary International and The Rotary Foundation with distinction and will gain personally and professionally from the GSE experience.
- Read the GSE Program Guide for Rotarians (165-EN) and understand all policies and procedures related to GSE. (Please contact your GSE chair and/or coordinator at the Foundation with any questions.)
- Complete the Biographical Data Form (see page 14) and submit it to the district GSE chair at least three months before departure.
- Complete the following forms and submit them to the district GSE chair at least two months before departure:
 - GSE Team Leader Application (260-EN) with all appropriate signatures
 - Certification of Insurance and Medical Certificate (see pages 15-16)

You must have insurance coverage of at least US$250,000 or equivalent for medical care and hospitalization for basic major medical expenses, including accident and illness expense, hospitalization, and related benefits, $50,000 or equivalent for emergency medical evacuation, $10,000 or equivalent for accidental death and dismemberment, and $20,000 or equivalent for repatriation of remains. This insurance must be valid in the country(ies) in which the team will travel, visit, and study during participation in the GSE program and be valid from the date of departure in the sponsor district through the official end of the trip. By requiring insurance herein, Rotary International/The Rotary Foundation does not represent that these coverages and limits will necessarily be adequate to protect the Participant. Participants should consult with an insurance professional to determine which coverages and limits will be adequate to cover them in the geographical location(s) visited. Rotary International/The Rotary Foundation does not provide any type of insurance to the Participants of these programs.

- GSE Team Travel Request Form in the GSE Program Guide for Rotarians (165-EN)
- With the GSE chair, determine who will be the main contact with the Rotary International Travel Service or appropriate affiliate agency for travel arrangements. Follow the travel guidelines described in the GSE Program Guide for Rotarians.
- Attend a minimum of 12 hours of pre-departure orientation. Consider participating in a multidistrict GSE/scholar orientation weekend in your region so that all TRF award recipients can interact and meet alumni of the program. If a full weekend orientation is not possible, organize a series of short-term sessions where the team can focus on certain issues and study different aspects of GSE.
- Keep in contact with the district GSE chair to maintain the latest information on the progress of the exchange.
- If you do not speak the host country's language with some fluency, plan to receive language instruction at least three months before departure. You must have a basic knowledge of the language to facilitate communication for the GSE team.

Leadership is much more an art, a belief, a condition of the heart, than a set of things to do. The visible signs of artful leadership are expressed, ultimately, in its practice.

— EXCERPT FROM LEADERSHIP IS AN ART BY MAX DEPREE

- Meet with the team on a regular basis before departure. Plan to
 - Discuss the host district and country through Rotary networks and community resources
 - Research the host country, invite guest speakers, or try foods from the host country
 - Prepare and practice your presentations
 - Educate team members about Rotary’s mission and what the district is doing to achieve it in the community
- Debrief team members before leaving the host district or within six weeks of the official end of the tour. Include this information in your final report.
- Write thank you letters to the host district governor and host GSE chair.
- Submit the completed GSE Evaluation Form (see page 17) to the district GSE chair within two months of return.
- Submit the GSE Final Report (see page 19) to the district GSE chair within two months of return. Failure to submit post-GSE reports may delay confirmation of the district’s partnership for the following Rotary year.
- Promote speaking engagements in your home district to share experiences, and involve the team in these presentations.
- Complete the Biographical Data Form (see page 14) and submit it to the district GSE chair at least three months before departure.
- Complete the Certification of Insurance and Medical Certificate (see pages 15-16) and submit it to the district GSE chair at least two months before departure.
- Attend a minimum of 12 hours of pre-departure orientation. Participate in a multidistrict GSE/scholar orientation weekend in your region, if available.
- If you do not speak the host country’s language with some fluency, plan to receive language instruction at least three months before departure. Consult with the district about Foundation-funded language training for the whole team.
- Prepare for visits with host families as described in “Preparation” on pages 8-9.
- Review the host district’s program itinerary and make sure that appropriate vocational activities are arranged for you throughout the trip. If the agenda does not meet your professional needs and expectations, provide feedback to your team leader.
- Remain with your team at all times, except for scheduled free time.
- Attend all visits as scheduled.
- Refrain from engaging in activities that could unnecessarily endanger or threaten the health, safety, or well-being of yourself or other participants. Such activities would include, but not be limited to, skydiving, bungee jumping, extreme sports, and operating heavy machinery.
- Refrain from engaging in any type of medical practice or activity including, but not limited to routine medical procedures, surgical procedures, dental practice, and contact with infectious diseases. Educational program participants are reminded that if they engage in this type of prohibited activity, they are solely responsible for providing adequate insurance and for any and all liability that may arise.

The Team Member’s Role

Team members have been chosen to represent Rotary International and The Rotary Foundation during the GSE. In selecting the GSE team, the sponsor district has recognized each team member’s ability to gain from an international experience and to be an effective international ambassador for Rotary. Team members must do the following before, during, and after the exchange.

- Ensure that the district GSE chair has a copy of your completed GSE Team Member Application (161-EN) with appropriate club and district endorsements and signatures.

- Should you be required to return home prematurely due to travel safety concerns and you choose to stay, you accept all responsibility for your safe return home and agree to forfeit your Foundation award.
- Write thank you letters to host families upon your return from the exchange.
- Submit the GSE Evaluation Form (see page 17) to the district GSE chair within two months of return.
- Submit the GSE Final Report (see page 19) to the district GSE chair within two months of return.
- After your return, accept invitations to speaking engagements at a minimum of five Rotary clubs, other appropriate organizations such as schools and colleges, and Rotary district conferences. Discuss what you have learned from the exchange. The Foundation strongly encourages your employer to attend at least one Rotary club meeting after the exchange to hear your team's post-GSE presentation. This will allow employers to understand the significance of your exchange experience.

Additional required items

- Passport — your most important means of identification abroad. If you do not have a current passport, apply immediately to obtain one in your country.
- Visas — permission from foreign governments for you to enter their countries. Consult the team leader and immediately start the process to obtain a visa in advance. Contact your host country's local consulate to ensure that you have all necessary documentation before sending in your application.
- Immunizations — normally required only for certain African, Asian, and Latin American countries. Check consular websites for details.
- Money — cash in the local currency, credit cards, and ATM cards (optional)
- Club presentation materials (see “Preparation,” pages 8-9)
- Luggage — as little as possible, as you will be traveling frequently around the host district
- Transportation to and from the airport in your home district

Strongly recommended

- Photocopies of important documents (passport, visa, plane ticket, medical insurance policy). You can also scan and save these documents to a flashdrive to bring with you.
- Emergency contact information in the host country and of family members or friends at home
- Health precautions — prescription medication, spare glasses, sunscreen, toiletries, etc.
- Telephone card
- Foreign language dictionary
- Digital camera
- Travel itinerary and information on the families you will be staying with

- Business cards, banners, team brochure, small host gifts, gift from your district governor to the host district governor (see “Preparation,” pages 8-9)

Finances

For each team member, the Foundation provides the most economical round-trip ticket between the home and host country(ies). Local Rotarians in the host area provide for meals, lodging, and group travel in their district. You are responsible for all personal and incidental expenses incurred before, during, and after the study tour. Here are a few recommendations for planning your finances for the tour.

- Have sufficient personal funds to cover the following possible expenses:
 - Insurance coverage that meets the minimum level required by the Foundation
 - Visa, passport, and immunization expenses
 - Transportation to and from airports, or the common point of departure within the sponsor district
 - Entry and exit taxes
 - Excess baggage charges
 - Cost of any additional travel after the study tour
 - Any increase in airfare resulting from an avoidable delay in completing pre-departure arrangements
 - Penalties resulting from changes in personal travel arrangements, including optional stopovers
 - Small gifts that you will take to your host families
 - Souvenirs you may wish to purchase in the host district
- Obtain some foreign currency in advance.
- Learn the bank schedules and accepted credit cards in the country you are visiting, as they vary by country.
- Bring a pocket calculator or exchange calculator to help you with the rates.
- Save all receipts of money changed. Many countries require you to show these receipts upon leaving (especially if you are converting foreign currency back to your home currency).
- Keep two records of the numbers of your traveler’s checks and/or credit cards. Give one to a relative at home, and keep the other separate from your wallet. Maintain accurate records of which traveler’s checks you cash and where.
- Visa and MasterCard are the most widely accepted credit cards. American Express offers the broadest range of services. Some credit cards offer travel insurance, shopping, and emergency cash services, but you will need detailed information on how to use these services while abroad.
- Clean out your wallet. Leave unnecessary credit cards and your social security card at home.

The Exchange

Preparation

To prepare for your exchange and activities that you will be involved in when you arrive in the host country, consider the following:

Team presentations

- The GSE team will attend several Rotary club meetings and, in some cases, the district conference. You will be expected to make a two- to three-minute presentation about yourself in the language of the host country.

— Ask the district GSE chair or team leader about the types of presentations expected and audiovisual equipment available. Not every club venue will be able to provide a computer hook-up or screen.

— Many GSE teams prepare a slide show or PowerPoint presentation to use as part of their program, when feasible, in the host district. It is also a good idea to write a script of the presentation and, if necessary, have it translated for your hosts.

- Treat these presentations as professional events and plan to represent your country diplomatically and clearly.
- Business cards with photos are helpful when making new acquaintances. Hosts will also appreciate the opportunity to see how your name is spelled and pronounced.
- Take along pictures of your family, pets, home, place of employment, etc. Sharing pictures with your host is a great way to break the ice.
- If your team wishes to make a DVD to show in the host country, ask your hosts which format they use (PAL or NTSC). You may also wish to post a video on a website, such as www.youtube.com, and then e-mail the link to clubs that will be hosting your team.

- CD recordings of your country's music are interesting items to share with your hosts. One GSE team put together a collection of popular music (the group performed five of the songs) and gave professionally reproduced copies as gifts.

The Foundation does not pay for items such as uniforms, business cards, or presentation materials, but the sponsor district or clubs might fund them. Contact the GSE chair for more information.

Host district itinerary

The Foundation requires that the GSE team members and leader approve the host district itinerary before travel tickets can be released. This ensures that team members have a realistic idea of what they will be doing during the program. When you look at the agenda the host district has planned for you (which should be detailed by day), make sure you see what you want and need for your professional and cultural development. You have taken one month off work to participate in this experience — your employer will want to know what you have learned and see the skills you will bring back. As a GSE team member, you will want to have tangible experiences to apply to your job. Remember to

- Check the agenda for relevant vocational visits (number and content)
- Make sure the host district understands your profession
- Request on-the-job shadowing opportunities instead of tours of businesses or facilities
- Watch for repetition of the same activities in different cities

Choose the lightest suitcase possible, fill it with the least amount of clothing that your courage will allow, close your eyes and remove half of what you have packed, and then rapidly depart.

— AGE-OLD ADVICE

If the host district itinerary does not meet your expectations, provide feedback to your team leader immediately. Clarify your professional needs and give specific examples of activities you would like to undertake. Provide more details about your job and field of work so the host district can match you with appropriate counterparts.

Use the team leader as your connection to your host Rotarians — he or she is a Rotarian and represents the interest of the team and district. At midtour, meet with your team leader (and, if possible, with members of the host district) to assess how the program is going. If something is not going well (poor organization and logistics, ineffective professional days, too many club visits, too many late nights, etc.), tell someone. The host district should be able to make adjustments in the remainder of the program.

Gifts, dress, local customs

- Team members may want to consider taking gifts to their host families and host district officials. Gifts reflecting your home have special meaning for recipients. Teams can contact local employers, businesses, banks, or chambers of commerce for appropriate donations.
- Learn useful and polite phrases such as “thank you,” “please,” and “hello, my name is” in your host country’s language.
- Uniforms are optional but considered a good idea in some countries, because they ensure appropriate dress at all times. Some teams select two uniforms — one for formal occasions, the other for informal events. An informal uniform might consist of matching pants or skirts with shirts, blouses, or T-shirts indicating the home district or country. (Some sponsoring clubs and districts partially underwrite uniform costs.)
- Personal relationships between the genders vary widely from country to country. Team members should be aware of local customs and act according to the host area’s accepted standards. For example, in some countries, casual dress is considered synonymous with permissiveness or promiscuity. Avoid potentially unpleasant situations by adapting to local customs.

- If you feel uncomfortable or threatened in any situation, immediately ask for help from your team leader or a local Rotarian with whom you feel comfortable. If no one can offer immediate assistance, contact GSE staff at the Foundation.

Health and well-being

- Make an appointment to see your doctor for an exam and required or recommended immunizations at least three months before departure. If you have a health condition that requires routine attention, prepare to deal with the condition overseas. Have your doctor complete the Medical Certificate (see page 16) that is required for your participation in GSE.
- Keep a journal about daily events, activities, and discussions. This document provides the district committee with a written account of your experiences and will help you prepare your final report.
- Create a blog of your team’s exchange. This is an easy way for teams to communicate with friends and family back home (see “Resources” for suggested websites).
- Take all provided rest opportunities while on your exchange. GSE programs are quite taxing and team members must stay well-rested during their trip.

Taking pictures

You are encouraged to take pictures during the tour. These pictures are not only a visual history of the exchange, but also present an excellent opportunity to feature you and your sponsor district in many Foundation publications and promotions. Here are a few tips for taking quality photos of GSE teams:

- Take pictures of team members in action (e.g., during club presentations, vocational visits, community activities, and family homestays).
- Try to include the Foundation or Rotary International logo in pictures, if appropriate.
- Use digital cameras when possible, so that you can send pictures electronically. (Note: Digital photos for Rotary print publications must have a resolution of at least 2 megapixels or 300 dots per inch.)

Orientation

Team orientation is essential to a successful exchange. Your team must participate in a minimum of 12 hours of training, three to four months before departure. The team should also participate in a multidistrict GSE/scholar orientation weekend in the region, if one is offered. Club-, district-, and regional-level orientations will help the team and district maximize the GSE program's benefits. Below are suggestions for training activities that your team may find useful. Consider incorporating some or all of the activities into your team's predeparture training.

Individual commitment to a group effort — that is what makes a team work, a company work, a society work, a civilization work.

 - Successful presentation and speaking formats
 - Culture shock and how to deal with it
 - Tensions that might arise when undertaking group travel
 - Concerns outbound team members might have about the trip
 - Packing, gifts, uniforms, badges

Team Building Opportunities

- Get to know your teammates, through
 - Focusing on who's who, background, occupation, objective of going on GSE
 - Assigning research on different areas in host district/country such as culture, tradition, history and political thought, religion, vocations, hot issues, and topics to avoid
 - Sharing and discussing findings
 - Discussing any concerns and determining how the team will resolve conflict
- What impact will the GSE program have on team members' professional careers and personal lives? Explore team building activities, such as
 - What's in the Bag? All team members are requested to bring to a meeting a purse, bag, or briefcase they carried to the office that day. Each member is asked to share one item from the bag that represents something the other members don't know about them. Members have a few minutes to choose an item, think about what they would like to say, and give a short presentation on the item.
 - Most Precious Possession. Each member brings his or her "most precious possession" and without showing it to the others, places it in a box designated for this purpose. Later, the items are taken out one by one, and the group tries to guess to whom each object belongs. After the items have all been removed and guesses have been made, owners claim their objects and tell the group why they are precious.
 - Thinking As a Group. A facilitator asks team members to empty their pockets of change, making sure to count it so they will get back the correct amount at the end. Members have a fixed amount of time to decide, as a group, what to hypothetically spend the money on. The facilitator observes whether or not the members are participating equally in the exercise, how the group comes to a conclusion that everyone agrees on, etc.

After the exercise, the facilitator asks how each member felt during the process. Did they feel included in the decision? What were the challenges of thinking as a group? What were the rewards?

Cultural Awareness

As you prepare for your GSE, become informed about the cultural differences between your home and host countries. Reference some of the publications on cultural awareness listed on page 13. Consider research at a local library and speak to people who are natives of the host country or have spent time there. Focusing on your own travel style and itinerary, read guidebooks about the countries and people you will see.

Rotary clubs reflect the cultures in which they exist. Therefore, after you arrive in your host country you may notice variations in their socioeconomics, gender, and age; the formality or informality of Rotary meetings; and the level of interaction with GSE participants.

- If you become frustrated with your surroundings or interactions, consider that the problem might not be your hosts but your adjustment to them.
- Keep busy. Set goals for yourself and follow through to meet them.
- Maintain an open mind; refrain from being judgmental. People behave according to their own set of cultural norms.
- Have patience. If a situation becomes frustrating, take a moment to re-evaluate it from the perspective of your hosts.
- Be positive. Look for the best in every situation. Enjoy the diversity around you.

Post-Exchange Obligations

- Final Report: The Rotary Foundation requires a complete final report from all teams within two months of returning home. Submit this report electronically to the GSE chair using the Final Report form on page 19. Electronic versions of the file are available upon request.

Attachments should include:

- Completed copies of GSE Evaluation Form (see page 17)
- Newstips reporting newsworthy stories and anecdotes (see GSE Newstip form on page 21)
- Digital photographs, CDs, and news clippings of the team's visit in the host district

Your district GSE chair should send copies of this report and the appropriate attachments to the governor of your district and partner district. Copies should also be submitted electronically to the GSE coordinator at the Foundation.

- Post-exchange speaking engagements: Team members will be called upon to share what they have learned on the GSE with Rotary clubs, youth groups, schools, and other organizations. Many team members prepare CDs, DVDs, or PowerPoint presentations to accompany their speeches. A representative of each team member's employer is strongly encouraged to accompany the member to at least one Rotary club meeting to see the team's post-GSE presentation.

The world is a book, and those who do not travel read only a page.
