This Week at Rotary

MONDAY, AUGUST 16, 2021

At Sinclair Community College for those who have reserved a spot. Also there is a ZOOM option for those who wish to attend virtually.

"Mindfulness"

Speaker: Chief Richard Biehl

Chief Richard Biehl has retired as Dayton's Chief of Police after 13 1/2 years on the job. It is indeed an honor to have Chief Biehl visit us today and discuss the concept of Mindfulness and explore its role in helping him maintain equanimity & stability in his role as Chief and as well during his 43+ years of public and community service.

Chair of the Day: Carolyn Rice

This Happened Last Monday...

President Shaun reminded all the cheese eaters present to savor the flavor of the cheese and to share! He then introduced Bill Nance to lead the group in the Pledge, the Four Way Test and prayer. We heard news of the day. Linda Groover then announced guests and visitors, including our speaker today, Annie Foos and her cheese squad of Marty Foos and Cornelia Shockey. We learned of the birthdays today and the week. We then moved to Day 10 contributions which included those from Alan, Kim, Paul, Jerry, Lorna and Kevin. They were made in honor of family, the bike ride fundraiser, the social committee meeting, and for Kevin's birthday. Finally, Shaun gave a Day 125 to promote the Club's new initiative of the Club 125, part of the proceeds going to fight polio.

Holly Wiggins introduced Bridget Federspiel the Youth Coordinator of JCOWA Junior Council on World Affairs, part of the DCOWA-- the Dayton Council on World Affairs to accept the Rotary Foundation's presentation of a $3,000.00 check for JCOWA. Bridget was most appreciative to the Club and explained how important it is that high school students are introduced to how they can seek employment opportunities on a world wide basis and also the importance of teaching them conflict resolution skills.

John Lyman was the Chair of the Day and turned over the meeting to Annie Foos's dad, Chuck Sawicki who introduced us to Annie and the St. Anne's Cheese Company! We learned Annie's cheese roots "there is a cheese story" and that she has fully embraced the farm to table movement. She has attended cheese making schools across the country and worldwide. Annie promoted 2 upcoming events on 8-14-21, there will be a demonstration of how to elevate the taste and use of Limburger cheese for German Fest. They will have a local German chef provide the demonstrations at the Foos home on that day how to pair the cheese to elevate your experience. On 8-21-21, the St. Anne's Porch Fest will take place and there will be a Mimosa and Mozzarella demonstration at 2 pm in the Foos kitchen. You can make mozzarella at home! All are encouraged to attend both events!

Annie then explained how Ohio is experiencing perfect cheddar weather and that cheddar is better! She described various pairings for cheddar to get the most bang for the buck from the cheese. A loose rule of thumb when deciding what to eat with any cheese is that if it grows together, it goes together. We were entertained by short videos demonstrating the creative and enticing Buckeye Cheese Boards that Annie's company sells. As we go into football season she is working on 3D molding cheese in the shape of Ohio and also cheese in the shape of footballs. She is currently working with athletes to promote cheese knowledge.

We then did a Rotary World of Cheese Quiz... as a group. One sample question: What is a top selling commercial cheese product in the US? VELVETTA which gives Annie nightmares because real cheese comes from farms and if you can light your food on fire you probably shouldn't be eating it. Another question: What type of cheese is #1 in Ohio? SWISS

The in person group sampled various cheddar cheeses English Saxonshire Cheese which is five layers of cheddar for the counties in England. Each layer was a different color but they were all cheddar. Cheese is best served at room temperature so that the fats in the cheese exude the best taste. Cheddar and Apples together are always a win. Pro tip if you put your cut up apples and put in a bowl of water with a Vitamin C tablet dissolved they will not turn brown.

Annie certainly is enthusiastic about cheese. The floor was opened to questions at the conclusion of the presentation. President Shaun indicated that color was not a determinant of sharpness of cheese as some may think. Another comment from the floor indicated that this talk had him rethinking putting Kraft singles on his hamburgers. Any cheese aged over 6 month is virtually lactose free.

President Shaun thanked Annie for the fun program and adjourned the meeting.

School Supplies Drive Benefitting Crayons to Classrooms

Rotary Book Club

Rotary Book Club met this week and had an interesting discussion about the book Life's Edge. Some came for clear answers of when life began, and others came for information they didn't know. The author said there were as many definitions of life as there are people, so we didn't come away with any clear explanations. We did enjoy the many stories told in the book. The group is ready to read something other than science and research, or anything very serious.

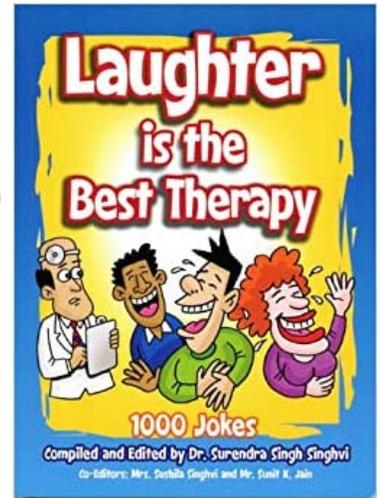

We took the suggestion of Jason Hilliard, who is reading a book about laughter, as our next book. Surendra chimed in and said he wrote a book about laughter and invited us to read it also.

So, our following two books are: Humor, Seriously: Why Humor is a Secret Weapon in Business & Life by Jennifer Aaker & Naomi Bagdonas,

And, Laughter is the Best Therapy: 1000 Jokes by Dr. Surendra Singhvi. This book is available on Amazon, or Fred Abrams will bring ten copies from Surendra to our next Rotary meeting and give them free of charge to those who request one.

Our next meeting is Tuesday, October 12, 2021. Some have asked if we could experiment with a blended in-person/Zoom meeting. John Lyman agreed to explore reserving a room at Boston Stoker, and I will provide the Zoom part of the call, so stay tuned for future details.
