

Colleagues,

This will be my last newsletter to you as my two-year term as RI Director ends at 11:59 pm June 30. It has been a distinct honor and privilege to serve the Rotary world and Zones 30 and 31 in this capacity. My love and admiration for our great organization continues to grow as I continually learn more about what we do. Thank you for allowing me the opportunity to serve Rotary in this way.

I have been fortunate during my two years to have worked alongside two visionary and very capable Rotary Presidents – Ian Riseley and Barry Rassin. Ian appointed me Board Liaison to the Trustees of the Rotary Foundation, which really opened my eyes to that essential and powerful side of our business. This year, Barry assigned me to serve as Liaison to the Strategic Planning Committee during a very important year of putting finishing touches on the new five-year strategic plan. I am delighted that President-elect Mark Maloney has asked me to serve as Chairperson of that committee next Rotary year.

I have also been fortunate to visit each of our districts in some fashion – PETS, 100th anniversaries, district conferences and other functions. I want to thank the Governor classes of 2017-18 and 2018-19 for serving with me in Rotary leadership. Thanks as well to our zone leadership teams (Rotary Coordinators and assistants, EMGs, Polio coordinators and membership project leads), including some 35 individuals who are there to support our clubs. I want to especially thank Donna and Greg Landry who have been editors of our Zone newsletter these past two years. Kudos as well to Michael Brown, our Zone webmaster and jack of all trades, for his dedicated commitment.

I now turn over the Director reins to my friend and colleague Floyd Lancia. Floyd and I have been working hard to transition smoothly, and have coordinated and communicated many decisions together. Floyd, with the strong support of Betty Lou, will serve all of you and the Rotary world with passion and effectiveness. I also want to acknowledge and thank Past Directors Karen Wentz and Larry Lunsford for their friendship, mentoring and support during my term.

To my spouse and Rotary Partner Catherine, thank you for your support and for joining me on many assignments. Rotary is really something we do together, continually enriching our lives.

Our two zones are in good shape. Training of our governor leadership is excellent. We continue to source new talent through our Emerging Rotary leaders seminar. Giving to our Foundation, to the Endowment and to Polio is strong. District multi-year planning is improving, and our Public Image focus and brand awareness get stronger every month. We also trained 15 district membership committees throughout the Zones.

We continue to struggle with getting our membership numbers up, but remain confident that initiatives of Coordinators Rita Esterly and Bob Callahan will be fruitful.

My thanks to each of you for being Rotarians and for what you do in your districts and clubs to add value by your experience and talents.

With my very best wishes,

Greg

2019 Council on Legislation

Below are highlights from the 2019 Rotary International Council on Legislation, which considered 117 proposals. See or download the full report of all action by clicking here.

- Authorized the Board to pursue changing RI's status to a 501(c)(3) organization
- Edited the RI Bylaws and standard Rotary Club Constitution
- Made Rotaract clubs a part of Rotary International, not just one of its programs
- Defeated a proposal to meet every two years
- Approved a dues increase of $1 a year beginning with the 2020-21 year and a total of three (to $69/year in 2020-21, $70/year in 2021-22, and $71/year in 2022-23)
- Reduced the number of nonvoting members at future Councils
- Removed the requirement that the official Rotary magazine in English be called The Rotarian
- Reaffirmed the requirement that all members subscribe to the official magazine
- Changed the title of Rotary's General Secretary to CEO
- Allowed the board to establish the target for our Rotary International reserve fund each year
- Streamlined the process for selecting a replacement for the President-Elect if the need arises
- Specified that a club president's initial term can only be extended by one year
- Added a sentence to the bylaws requiring each club to work toward a well-balanced membership that celebrates diversity
- Defeated a proposal to require clubs to meet at least 40 times each year

Leadership Seminars

Each July and August, the Heart of America hosts four Leadership Seminars conveniently located within our two zones. These seminars are excellent, affordable, local opportunities to bring district and club leaders, as well as interested club members, up to date on the programs and policies of Rotary International and The Rotary Foundation. Attendees are provided with the tools and information necessary to conduct successful district seminars and conferences, including information on Rotary Foundation fundraising, Global and District Grants, The Rotary Foundation programs, and Public Image best practices.

Attendees should include District Governors, Assistant Governors, District/Club Foundation Chairs and Foundation Committee members, District/Club Membership Chairs, District/Club Public Image Chairs, Youth Service Chairs, District Trainers and all other interested Rotarians.

This year, these valuable seminars will be held in Columbus, OH, New Orleans, LA, Decatur, AL, and Tulsa, OK. Seminar and hotel reservations are already open and available on the Zones' website at www.rizones30-31.org/events/success.

2019-21 Zones 30-31 Director Floyd Lancia

Floyd Lancia was invited to join Rotary while serving as Superintendent of Schools in Van Buren, Maine. While a member of the Van Buren Rotary Club he served in various positions, including club president.

With a career change, and a move to Fort Wayne, Indiana, he was invited to join the Anthony Wayne Rotary Club. While a member, Floyd served on the board, committees and as president.

At the district level, Floyd served in various capacities and as District Governor in 2009-10. In his continued district level service, he continues to serve on numerous boards and committees.

serve on numerous boards and committees.

At the Zone 30 level, Floyd has served as Assistant Regional Rotary Foundation Coordinator, Regional Rotary Foundation Coordinator, Endowment Major Gift Advisor, governor trainer for three institutes and on three institute executive committees as well as training leader at two International Assemblies. Floyd is now serving as Endowment Major Gift Advisor and will assume the role of Rotary International Director for Zones 30-31 on July 1, 2019. Floyd is the recipient of Rotary International's Service Above Self Award, the Rotary Foundation's Meritorious Service Award and the Distinguished Service Award.

At the International level, Floyd attended eight international conventions. He spearheaded Matching Grants for water projects in Mexico, eye surgical equipment in Nicaragua, nursing home equipment, childcare equipment, a bloodmobile, cleft palate surgical equipment in Brazil, school equipment in India, and library material in Kenya. His visits to Sierra Leone for water well dedications and the Polio National Immunization Day in India are two of the six international missions that were most moving for him.

Floyd and his wife Betty Lou have three grown children and six grandchildren. They serve the community by supporting various non-profit organizations and share the passion of the work being done through The Rotary Foundation by being Arch Klumph and Bequest Society Members.

Another $100 Million for Polio Eradication

As Nigeria approaches its third year without a reported case of wild polio, Rotary has announced the donation of an additional $100 million to support that fight. With only two remaining countries, Afghanistan and Pakistan still reporting cases of the virus in the wild, Rotary and its partners seek to reduce the number of new cases to zero.

Half of the new funding will be spent in the three cases not yet declared polio-free, with the remainder spread between ten more countries at most risk of re-infection. Some of the funding will be used by The World Health Organization for research and surveillance activities. Since starting this fight 34 years ago, this brings the total funds contributed by Rotary to over $1.9 billion, including matching funds from our partners, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

As a result of these efforts in that same time period, the number of persons infected annually by the virus has been reduced by over 99.9%, from about 350,000 cases to only 33 cases of wild poliovirus in last year. Click here to add your donation.

International Convention Highlights

Rotarians and guests attending the 110th annual Rotary International Convention in Hamburg, Germany are that much richer for the experience — as are their communities across our globe. Imagine the power of more than 26,000 registrants from 3,605 Rotary clubs in 170 countries inspired by more than 30 speakers, nearly 100 breakout sessions and 330-plus exhibit booths on 200 Rotary humanitarian projects.

Rotary International President Barry Rassin made it clear just how important our world's work is, sharing in his keynote address that "Service to others is an integral part of our mission, whether it's through the plans and actions of individual clubs, Rotary's six areas of focus, or the transformational support of The Rotary Foundation. And the service that most defines us and our global mission is the ongoing goal to ride the world of polio."

How fitting that Michel Zaffran, director of polio eradication for the World Health Organization, was there to reflect on the progress and significance of our Global Polio Eradication Initiative with WHO, the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation and other partners. Convention attendees heard that Rotarians have contributed $1.9 billion and countless volunteer hours to protect more than 2.5 billion children in 122 countries from polio, that just two countries — Afghanistan and Pakistan — continue to report cases of wild poliovirus, and that Rotary is committed to raising another $102 million for polio eradication this year.

Additional presentations featured the First Mayor Hamburg, the Federal Minister for Economic Cooperation and Development, the CEO of mytaxi (who presented a check for 70,000 Euros as 100 percent of proceeds from all taxi rides to and from the convention center), Rotaract Germany on Autism training and so much more. Join us in "Summit City"

In 1827, when the Wabash and Erie Canal was constructed, the highest point on the canal was at Fort Wayne and nicknamed "Summit City." Fittingly, it will host our Zones' 2019 Summit in October. Join us at the Hilton Hotel and Convention Center to renew old friendships, make new ones, get updates on Rotary and The Rotary Foundation, and hear from speakers such as Mark "Marvelous Mark" Kamp, author John O'Leary, Past R.I. President KR "Ravi" Ravindran, Rotary Foundation Technical Coordinator Wade Nomura, and of course, our new Zone Director, Floyd Lancia. Click on the graphic below to go to the Summit website.

June is Fellowships Month

Rotary Fellowships are groups of members who share a common interest in their sports, hobbies or recreational activities. These help groups expand Rotarians' skills, foster development within their vocations, and enhance experience bv exploring interests while networking with others around the world.

Independent of Rotary International, fellowships establish their own rules, dues requirements and administrative structures. They are open to Rotarians, their family members, participants and alumni of all Rotary and Rotary Foundation programs.

If your interest isn't covered by one of Rotary's 70+ existing Fellowships, you can join a group discussing your interest, or start a new fellowship.

Leadership Lessons from a Delayed Flight

Elizabeth Usovicz RPIC, Zone 31

If you've just returned from the RI Convention in Hamburg, you know. Air travel during the best of times, and for the happiest of reasons is challenging, especially during the summer months. I recently endured one of those long, drawn-out delays at an East Coast airport. A broad band of weather was moving up the coast, causing both take-off and arrival delays.

I was booked on the third of three flights scheduled for Chicago, so I sat in the back row at my gate and watched the passengers booked on the first Chicago flight. The flight was delayed 45 minutes, but the new departure time came and went. A lone agent, working two gates simultaneously, had no updates until he announced the inevitable: the first flight to Chicago was cancelled, and the second flight was delayed.

About a hundred passengers from the two flights mobbed the ticket counter for rerouting, demanding answers. I called the airline's customer service number and waited until the delayed flight boarded and the rerouted passengers left. The third flight to Chicago was now delayed. I started a new line at the counter.

Another passenger joined me in forming the new line. He introduced himself as Mark, and we shared information on our respective flight alerts to Chicago, and our options for connecting flights once we got there. With the lone agent now loading gate-checked bags onto the plane at the adjacent gate, there was no official information source onsite.

Passengers approached us at the empty gate counter, and Mark and I shared our airline alerts with them. A line started to form in front of us, and passengers started referring other travelers to us for information, even though we had no official role. Mark even announced a gate change alert, and like the Pied Piper, he led passengers to the new gate assignment before it was officially announced.

Mark demonstrated five behaviors that work for more than just messed-up travel plans. They're good practice for Rotary leaders, too – whether we have an "official" position or can influence a positive outcome. Here's what he did:

- He gathered as much information as he could from his own sources.
- He validated his information against other information sources.
- He calmly shared his information and updates with others.
- He made decisions based on the information he had gathered.
- He took action and called others to the same action.

These five behaviors influenced how Mark handled himself, his information and his relationships during a period of change. As a result, he emerged as a leader in less than 20 minutes, with people he had never met before. It's good advice for us all as we innovate new approaches in our clubs and districts. In times of change, people look for leadership, not management. Creating positive approaches to change, whether in an airport or in a Rotary club, is true leadership.
