THOMAS CLOUTIER

Hometown: Southbridge, Massachusetts

College: Undergrad- Willamette University (BA in Rhetoric and Media Studies)—

Masters- Canisius College (Master of Science in Sport Administration)

Work: The Stafford- Avamere Health Services- Executive Director & Regional Marketing Director

Been with Avamere for six years, been at The Stafford for three

Rotary Committee Served- Youth Services, the Four Way Junior High School contest.

I truly enjoy the Christmas Drive and delivering presents to the local community in need. The Four Way test is my favorite part of Rotary. I love hearing speeches and reading the essays from the talented young adults at our schools.

Hobbies/Interest- Golf, Soccer (Alumni of Willamette University team), Huge sports fan, Crossfit, Cagefighting (J), Hanging out with my beautiful wife Jessica and adorable Golden Retriever dog named Fred. I am a new uncle as of last week and am very excited about my new buddies Blake and Harper.

THOMAS CLOUTIER – 2 TRUTHS & 1 LIE

After Jessica (wife now) turned Thomas down for four years for a first date.. finally she gave in. The first date was a romantic mid-day showing of the movie oddly titled “She's Out of Your League”.

After a surgery a couple years ago, Thomas escaped a local hospital during winter season, in just a hospital gown, in search of some fresh air and jell-o. Nurses found him attempting to cross the street. Thomas isn't very good on drugs.

In 2013, Thomas was single-handedly responsible for capturing the local Lake Oswego Cougar that was on the loose. He used skills learned from Animal Planet and the Discovery Channel to contain and wrangle the beast. He should be recognized as a local hero for saving the community from the harmful jungle kitty. His accomplishment has gone unnoticed by the club and city.
