

e-Revolutions

Berkeley Rotary Club

At the Intersection of Community and Service Since 1916

Click here for a printable club calendar

Speakers

April 24, 2024

Peter Fedichev, Ph.D., Chief Science Officer, Gero

"Aging, Entropy, and the Biological Arrow of Time"

May 01, 2024

Grace Karr, Senior
Community Engagement
Manager, BUILD Bay Area
"Support East Bay High School Entrepreneurs in the BUILD Program"

May 08, 2024

Professor David Weisblat, Dept. of Molecular + Cell Biolology, UC Berkeley

"The Mongolia Program"

May 15, 2024

Steve Tornallavay, Founder + Director, 9th Street Lab TRA

Events

April 23rd 50th Annniversary of Berkeley City College Block Party

April 24th

Civil Discourse Meeting via Zoom

April 30th

Membership Committee
Meeting via Zoom

May 5th

Tour the Tilden Regional Parks Botanical Garden

May 9th

Thirsty Thursday

May 15th

Berkeley Weekly Club Meeting

Birthdays

Joan Louise McLean April 22nd Douglas Fielding April 23rd John Caner April 30th David A Wilson Jr. May 2nd Pamela M. Doolan May 3rd Jacqueline Peters Hammond May 10th

Club Announcements

Next Meeting. Wednesday, April 24, 2024, 12:30-1:30 PM PT (at First Pres and via Zoom): Peter Fedichev, Ph.D., Chief Science Officer at Gero (https://gero.ai), will present "Aging, Entropy, and the Biological Arrow of Time." The speaker is provided by Team #4, the Yellow-bellied Sapsucker Team; Marcia and O'Neil Dillon, Captains.

Civil Discourse. Hosted by the Berkeley Rotary Peace Committee, the next in a series of Civil Discourse meetings takes place on Wednesday, April 24, 2024, via Zoom, 2:30-3:30 PM PT. Topic: "Do electric cars really have an impact on climate change?" Contact Dan Thomas (dthomas@tc-associates.com) for more info and the Zoom link.

World Immunization Week: April 24-30, 2024. Let's make history together! Every donation this week helps obtain the vaccines, materials, transportation, and healthcare workers needed to cross the finish line in the fight to end polio. Make your check payable to the Rotary Foundation, mark the memo "PolioPlus,†and give it to Jason Russell or mail it to him, to be sure your donation is credited correctly, at 1329 Brewster Drive, El Cerrito, CA 94539. You can also donate online at https://my.rotary.org/en/polioplus-fund

Resources to check out: End Polio Now (https://www.endpolio.org), PolioPlus Society (on Facebook, https://www.facebook.com/groups/polioplussociety)

Save the Date: May 5, 2024, 11 AM. The BRC Social Committee invites you to a docent-led tour of Tilden Regional Parks Botanical Garden. BYO lunch. RSVP to Tom Eelkema (teelkema@gmail.com), Arlene Marcus (arlenebmarcus@gmail.com), or O'Neil Dillon (oneilsdillon@gmail.com).

IMMUNIZATION

Adrian Vancamper May 10th

Amit S Randhawa May 11th Martin Kaliski May 12th Dylan Supencheck May 14th Kenneth N. Matsumura May 15th

Welcome, Kris Libunao!

Long before Kris Libunau dropped in on a Berkeley Rotary Club meeting, she was well acquainted with Rotary at various levels. In high school, she was a member and Vice President of her Interact Club in San Bruno, California. Her grandfather served as a District Governor in Quezon City, Philippines, where he was mayor for three terms. Now Kris, an MSW candidate and social welfare researcher at UC Berkeley, continues her community service as a Planning and Zoning Commissioner for the City of Albany, a candidate for the Albany City Council, and the latest member of Berkeley Rotary Club.

As CEO of Community Insights Cooperative, LLC, Kris is a social impact entrepreneur. She believes in community reinvestment, worker cooperatives, and elevating community wisdom, working with businesses and organizations to reimagine the workplace as spaces of connection, belonging, and dialogue through a play-based lens.

Welcome to Berkeley Rotary, Kris!

The Changing Landscape of Museums: Museum as Town Square

Lori Fogarty, Director and CEO of the Oakland Museum of California (OMCA), spoke to the club on April 17 about the vision for, and transformation of, the Oakland Museum from its inception in 1969 to its very different present.

Showing us an expansive photograph of the museum, wedged on the edge of Lake Merritt between the Oakland

Auditorium and the Alameda County Courthouse, Lori celebrated the remodel of the museum's garden in 2020-21 and the new entrance from Lake Merritt. The museum was opened up to the city, striving to become Oakland's town square. She shared the vision for the museum: "We envision a just and vibrant future where our communities value and honor one another and the world around us.â€

Different communities surround the Oakland Museum. The building is on the edge of Chinatown and adjacent to a diverse mix of different Oakland neighborhoods. A physical transformation of the galleries in 2007-12 made those spaces welcoming to all, relevant and accessible to the various groups that make up Oakland. OMCA is engaging more now with these neighbors, focusing on culturally relevant content and collaborating with community members on programs and exhibitions.

A sample of these collaborative exhibitions includes All Power to the People: Black Panthers at 50. Many people in Oakland had a deep personal connection to the Black Panthers, making this the most attended exhibition up to that point (2016-17); Altered State: Marijuana in California; Queer California: Untold Stories, exploring the history of LGBTQ culture and history in the state; and the upcoming Por El Pueblo: The Legacy and Influence of Malaquias Montoya, a significant Chicano poster artist.

The new garden spaces offer a wonderful opportunity to encounter the East Bay's diversity. You can see this most notably on Friday nights between April and October, when Off the Grid food trucks line $10^{\rm th}$ Street in front of the museum, and music transforms the public spaces into a multi-ethnic and multi-generational party. Families come early and relax in the garden with their tacos, gyros, and beer, listening to mellow music. After 7:00, the music cranks up and attracts the hip crowd, alerted by social media that their friends are gathering. It really is a town square!

Lori concluded her talk by reiterating the concept of the museum as town square. "We think a lot about what our social impact is. How many places (other than Rotary!) are there opportunities for people to meet people of difference? . . . The museum is one of the few places where you can encounter people across difference. Our social impact is creating a sense of trust, understanding and connection, especially between people who may be different from each other." Noting the Four Way Test recited at the beginning of the meeting, Lori said $\hat{a} \in \mathbb{Z}$ a lot of ways I feel like [you $\hat{a} \in \mathbb{Z}$ sympatico with our mission and vision. $\hat{a} \in \mathbb{Z}$

Letâ \in TMs follow Loriâ \in TMs suggestion and plan a Berkeley Rotary outing to the Oakland Museum on a Friday night this summer.

Publisher: Jason Draut Editor: Irene Hegarty

Club Announcements: Linda Cogozzo

Club Calendars: Linda Cogozzo (online); Anne Pardee (printed)

Copy Deadline: Send to hgrty@sbcglobal.net by Saturday noon for next week's e-Rev.