MEET TODAY'S SPEAKER MAYOR JEFF WAN

PEOPLE OF ACTION

President Mary Kemnitz introduced this morning's speaker, Mayor Jeff Wan, who was first elected to the Clayton City Council in 2018 and re-elected in 2022. He is an East Bay native and has lived in Clayton since 2009. He grew up in Martinez and later was a graduate of UC Davis. He is an active CPA and has been working in private industry for over 20 years. Since the pandemic he has worked primarily from home, which comes in handy as he helps with his three school-aged children.

MORNINGRITUAL

Eric Rehn perfectly recited the Four-Way Test. Club Historian Rich Lueck was the Mystery Greeter and collected $1. Thought for the Day was from Rotary Foundation Director Susie Lim. Today's Guests are Mayor Jeff Wan and Julia Kitay.

TODAY'S SPEAKER

Mayor Jeff was, indeed, a joy as today's speaker. We went way over the allotted time because we had so many questions that the Mayor happily addressed.

At the end of the Mayor's enjoyable and informative presentation, he autographed this book which will be donated to the Clayton Public Library.

THE NEW SIGN

Check out the attractive new sign that was installed in front of the building where our weekly Rotary meetings are held. It is very hard to miss.

ROTARIANS AT WORK

President Mary Kemnitz reminds us she has 6 meetings left in her term of office.

SAA Russ Anderson is keeping order.

Rotary Foundation Chair Susie Lim is sitting in for Treasurer Vicki Sexton.

HAPPYBUCKS

Barbara Reifschneider

JEFF WILSON had a happy buck this morning. Jeff was very happy, but he said he still needs more sponsors for the Father's Day run. Jeff's wedding anniversary is at the end of the month, and he will be celebrating 15 years of wedded bliss-- not 20.

RICHARD LUECK had two grumpy bucks this because he doesn't like it when he keeps getting messages on his dashboard that say his battery needs help.

Richard also had a happy buck this morning for Coco farms. We visited them just a few weeks ago and he decided to try some gummy chews to help him sleep. Guess what? They worked.

JULIA KITAY, our guest today, had a happy buck this morning because her son just turned 18.

WHERE'S VICKI:

Treasurer Vicki Sexton says "We have been more or less on our trek for 3 weeks. As of yesterday, we have hiked 162 miles and it seems at least like a hike up Mt Diablo four or five times. We met some young women on the trail today, both from Colorado studying theology for their master's degree. Charming women. They claimed that they were not outdoorsy but had to do this pilgrimage for religious growth. I have run across so many people who are doing this for the very same reason. But many are doing it to find their spiritual self, while others are doing this because they don't know how much longer they can do physically. I fall into the last reason with a smattering of the second."

"I'm doing much better, getting stronger every day. It's interesting pushing yourself physically to accomplish things I really never knew I could. Many of my friends (i.e., Joan) couldn't figure out the point. I don't know if I can answer this because the point is different for everyone. Although I have said the "f" word many times (mostly to myself and after looking at the mountains I need to climb) I'm very happy to have gone on this trip. I've learned a lot about myself—the new 72-year-old self, that is."

"Here is Iglacia de Santiago in Lestedo a cute church along the way. Although just slightly off the road, there were signs leading you to these incredible ruins. This community was inhabited from 400 BC thru the first century. What a sight to behold."

This marks the end of the big hike. They are now heading off to Porto, Portugal for a few days of rest then on to Toledo, Spain where they will head home on May 29.

I don't know if Facebook has ever caused the lame to walk but it has sure caused the dumb to speak.

FUN STUFF FROM PHYLLIS DILLER

Housework can't kill you, but why take a chance?

Cleaning your house while our kids are still growing up is like shoveling the sidewalk before it stops snowing.

The reason women don't play football is because 11 of them would never wear the same outfit in public.

A bachelor is a guy who never made the same mistake once.

I want my children to have all the things I couldn't afford. Then I want to move in with them.

Most children threaten at times to run away from home. This is the only thing that keeps some parents going.

Any time three New Yorkers get into a cab without an argument, a bank has just been robbed.

What I don't like about office Christmas parties is looking for a job the next day.
