I had a customer call to tell me she lives out of state and her mother, a senior citizen here in Las Vegas, received three meals at her door and was very surprised. The bag had The Jolt's information inside, so she decided to call us to see what the program was about.

She was just amazed by what we were doing and the food we are able to provide for our at-risk community. She said it really makes her happy to know that her mother is being cared for in this way and that there are people looking out for her mother while she is quarantined in California.

That phone call showed me how far we are really impacting the community in ways that never crossed my mind.

Tiffany Styles, owner of The Jolt, where many of us picked up meals to deliver.

My daughter Sarah and I delivered 10 meals, and each was memorable in its own way. One mom has a 20-something autistic daughter who has the mental capacity of an 8-year-old. She is her mom's fulltime job, and her mom mentioned she was desperately in need of clothes, size 18-20, for her daughter.

I made notes in the Onfleet app when I completed the delivery so, hopefully, she can get the assistance she needs. Another beautiful man had quite few physical challenges. His parting words were "Thank you so much and God bless"  We left with a lump in our throats knowing that such a small gesture made such a big difference.

Everything was so easy and ran very smoothly. We ran into an issue where we accidentally delivered the wrong size bag to a family. We contacted Delivering with Dignity and they took care of it right away.

The families we delivered to were so thankful. I even got an unprompted thank you from a little boy who was so excited when he and his mom answered the door. Very rewarding experience.

My wife and I had a great time delivering the meals, meeting the clients. Met some really, really nice people making sweet lemonade out of some really sour lemons.

That was a great project. I definitely would do it again. Next time, I would even do a couple more deliveries as everything was so close, and it only took a short time to complete.

One of our deliveries was to a home that had several people outside, and they were not shy to ask if we had any additional 'free food.' Because we did not, we ran to Taco Bell and got a large package of tacos and brought them back.

The looks on their faces and the sheer gratitude were enough for us to know we had made a difference in people's lives.

We also had a wheel-chair bound man whom we gave a meal to, as one of our deliveries never answered. He was overwhelmed with gratitude. Yesterday was a beautiful mission, and I know we all helped so many people.

At Jolt Coffee, Rotarians gathered with joy and enthusiasm to do what we love to do. Giving of our time to our community. I had five deliveries. The first one did not answer her phone and had a No Trespassing sign on her gate. I did not attempt to open the gate.

I proceeded to deliver successfully the other 4 four, all met with thanks and appreciation. I decided to give the first delivery one more attempt. She did answer the phone and came out to meet me. Again thanks and appreciation.

This is what Rotary is about "Service Above Self."

None of you have to do this, but you chose to, and here you are protecting people like me. I do not know what I did to deserve such great treatment by everyone.

From the bottom of my heart I cannot express how much I appreciate this program.

Recipient of our volunteerism

These meals have been such an amazing help to our household. I've been able to pay two bills on time because our dinners were already paid for. The peace of mind that gives me cannot be measured with any kind of accuracy.

I had to have emergency surgery. The gift you have given us, the relief from constant overthinking and anxiety regarding food insecurity is immeasurable. Thank you again. We are truly blessed and humbled.

Recipient of our volunteerism

Without you many of us would not know how to get through this. God Bless and thank you for all the help.

A photograph of an elderly woman with grey hair, wearing a light pink shirt, standing in front of a house with a textured beige wall and a white garage door. She is holding a white sign with handwritten text. To her right, the rear of a red car is visible. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting daytime.

So much!!
For the Food!!

Delivery with Dignity was created to provide prepared meals through our food delivery system to the most vulnerable seniors and other high-risk residents who cannot leave their homes in the middle of this pandemic.

We are expanding with support from the community, philanthropists like Rotary and government grants.
