This Week at Rotary Community Placemaking in Springfield, Tim Rosenbury

Tim Rosenbury has lived in Springfield since May 1984, when he began working in the firm now known as BRP Architects. He worked there for almost 36 years when he retired from the practice of architecture this past February.

Tim was for many years a member of Sunrise Rotary and served as president. He has endeavored to live out the “Service Above Self” ethic of Rotary by serving Springfield in a number of community leadership positions including the chair of the Springfield Area Chamber of Commerce and president of the Board of Education for Springfield Public Schools. He currently is a member of the boards of directors of Leadership Springfield, the Springfield Convention and Visitors Bureau, and Guaranty Bank and its holding company, Guaranty Federal Bancshares.

In March of this year he joined the City of Springfield as Director of Quality of Place Initiatives, a new position aimed at making Springfield more livable for its citizens, more welcoming to visitors, and more competitive for attracting new companies and talent.
