Their live arrangements are reminiscent of The Internet, The Roots and Hiatus Kaiyote where melodic cello or saxophone lines, jazz guitar voicings, and gospel piano set a beautiful soundscape underneath soulful voices and poetic lyricism. As LGC continues to debunk stereotypes one melody at a time, their music never ceases to touch the hearts of people from all walks of life. Their raw yet passion filled live performance have intrigued thousands in a little over a year. Midwest Fest, Lamplight Festival, and the Black Arts Fest have all served host to the band’s groove.

Saturdays with the Stulberg: Haesue Lee – Viola, 2015 Bronze Medalist

Saturday, November 14, 2020 at 10:30 am

In conjunction with our fall annual appeal, we are thrilled to announce our first-ever virtual concert series, Saturdays with the Stulberg.

The series will feature recitals by three of our most captivating recent Stulberg medalists: cellist Oliver Herbert, violist Haesue Lee, and violinist Charlotte Marckx, all of whom have wowed audiences from our physical stages here in Kalamazoo over the past five years and readily accepted the opportunity to play for us again – this time in the comfort of our own living rooms.

The recitals will be broadcast on Saturdays, November 7, 14, and 21 via our website (www.stulberg.org). Each performer will offer a 45-60 minute program to be announced from their home stages. Recitals will be free, and we anticipate a vibrant and international audience of music lovers like the ones who attended our virtual competition this past May.

While we missed connecting with the Stulberg’s generous supporters at our usual Summer and Stars Celebration in this highly unusual year, we relish this novel opportunity to share music and fellowship virtually. We are deeply grateful to the Stulberg community for your continued support of this organization, and of our stellar young musicians, in this uniquely challenging time. We hope you will join us in celebrating their artistry from afar this November!
