HAPPY BUCK ANNOUNCEMENTS

- It was not a Happy Buck, but we recognized a special occasion today. Jim Meyer celebrated his 85th birthday at Rotary.
- Steve Jones made up in London, England, last week, and he returned with a few interesting observations: they hold an evening meeting, and the meal was $30 including wine; they have a very stiff fine if your cell phone goes off during the meeting; they have a fixed time for adjournment.
- Lance Aten contributed $2, one for each son pictured in the Register-Mail with their dad..
- Quent Brown offered $1 for the Cubs.
- Doug Gibb's sons are heading back to school, one to college and the other to high school.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Lori Sundberg has seen a lot of changes at Sandburg since her days as a student there. She believes that the college is exceptionally good at helping students succeed. CSC serves all or part of 10 counties. They have a good record as a quality institution with a favorable student/teacher ratio. 65% of the students eventually transfer to another college, and 35% of the students complete technical training at CSC.

CSC is working to improve their image among traditional students to make CSC the college of choice for their first two years. The college will work with students to provide good coordination for further studies at another institution. The goal is for all of the credits to transfer to the new school for their final two years in their specialty.

Our new RYE student will arrive from Sweden on Monday. Plan to meet him at next week's meeting.
