Last week's meeting

Stace Karge Crossville Housing --New Beginnings Stace Karge from the Crossville Housing Authority --New Beginnings program gave an inspirational program on both the New Beginnings program, and preconceived perceptions on people that impact our society today. New Beginnings is a self help program to assist families in building their own homes with help and assistance from New Beginnings staff and subcontractors. Homes are 1400 sq ft with 3 bedrooms 2 baths and a 2 car garage and a typical family ends up having to make loan payments of $500-$600/month for their home after all adjustments. Participants put in a lot of effort to attain a good credit score and to save money to put into the home.

Having received a phone call from a neighbor to the recent development underway saying that people are moving out because of the "riff-raff" moving in Stacey challenged us all to help change the conversation with preconceived stereotypes. Her clients have good credit scores, solid savings plan, good jobs, and are committed to have a home for their family.

Grace

We break the bread which comes from you, and thank you Lord for all things true. May we, more blessed than we deserve, live less for self and more to serve.
