

Dr. Ed Hill spoke at the Feb. 19, 2019 Rotary Club meeting. Dr. Hill, a retired Auburn University professor, talked about how coyotes have expanded their range in the southeast United States, including Alabama, Mississippi and Georgia since the mid-1970s and the impact of that expansion on communities in those states.