Rotary – A Brief History

Rotary was founded in Chicago, IL on February 23, 1905 by Paul P. Harris, a lawyer. On that evening, he met with three friends – Sylvester Schiele, a coal merchant, Gustavus E. Loehr, a mining engineer, and Hiram E. Shorey, a merchant tailor. The three had met many times before, but on this particular evening, their specific goal was to form a club for business and professional men, which would provide for regular socializing and for promoting their businesses. No two members, they decided, should have the same occupation. That basis for membership still exists.

The four soon were joined by Harry Ruggles, a printer, who sometimes is considered the fifth founding member of “Rotary One” – the Rotary Club of Chicago. Harry is credited with having introduced singing at Rotary meetings, a tradition that continues in many Rotary clubs around the world today.

By the time of their second official meeting, the new club also had recruited William Jensen, a realtor, and Albert White, a manufacturer of pianos and organs. It was at this second meeting that the members decided the name of their group should be “Rotary,” since the meeting places were rotated among the offices of the members.

By 1907, the goal of the club had evolved to include civic service (soon to be called “community service”) and membership the following year skyrocketed to 200.

With the addition of clubs in Canada, England and Ireland, Rotary became international in 1911, which also was the year of our organization’s first international convention.

Today there are about 35,000 Rotary clubs in 220 countries, islands and territories around the world, with 1.2 million members.

Ending polio

For more than 35 years, Rotary has been the driving force in the effort to end polio worldwide. Alongside our partners in the Global Polio Eradication Initiative, we have achieved a 99.9 percent reduction in polio cases, with less than 200 cases of wild polio reported in 2019 compared with 350,000 a year in the late 1980s. Our members have contributed $2.1 billion and countless volunteer hours to protect more than 3 billion children in 122 countries from this paralyzing disease. Today, just two countries continue to report cases of wild poliovirus, Afghanistan and Pakistan. Rotary remains committed to ending polio, and will raise $50 million per year, with every dollar to be matched with two additional dollars through a matching agreement with the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

The Organization of Rotary

Rotary International ("R.I.") is governed by a President and a Board of Directors. A new R.I. President is selected each year in September by a nominating committee appointed by the Board of Directors. The Board employs a General Secretary to oversee the day-to-day operations of Rotary International headquarters in Evanston, IL, and service centers in Zurich, Buenos Aires, Sao Paulo, Parramatta (Australia), Tokyo and Seoul.

The Rotary world is divided into 34 Zones. The 17 Directors of Rotary International are elected from the 34 Zones. Each Director represents two Zones and serves a two-year term. The Rotary Club of Marietta Metro is in Zone 34 which stretches from Virginia through the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida and includes the Caribbean Islands. Zones are further subdivided into Districts.

There are three Districts in Georgia and the Rotary Club of Marietta Metro is part of District 6900, one of the largest in the Rotary world. District 6900 is composed of 69 clubs with a total membership of around 4,500 Rotarians. Every Rotary District is headed by a District Governor, elected for a one-year term from among Past Presidents of clubs in the District. The succession plan provides for the naming of the future District Governor several years in advance.

Rotary Clubs

Each Rotary club is similar, yet clearly distinctive because of the emphasis on the local community.

Membership is based on the classification system. Classifying members by their professions produces an inclusive membership to recognize a cross-section of occupations within the club's geographical boundaries. No more than 10% of a club's active membership may come from a single classification.

The classification principle provides fellowship as the basis for service, facilitated by the diversity of talents and interests of the members. It also prevents the predominance in a club of any one group.

Each Rotary club is intended to be a cohesive group, knit together in bonds of personal friendship and service. Thus, regular attendance at weekly meetings is an important condition of membership. Unexcused absence from four consecutive meetings can lead to termination of membership. A member who remains present for least 60% of any club meeting is considered to be present at the meeting. Likewise, members are required to attend a minimum of 50% of meetings in any given Rotary year. Members must attend at least 30% of the meetings of their own club.

Meetings of the home club that are missed may be made up in a variety of ways, including: attending the meeting of another Rotary club; completing an on-line Rotary e-Club meeting; attending a Board of Directors meeting, an Interact meeting, or any other Rotary-related meeting sponsored by the club, district, zone, or Rotary International; or participating in a club-sponsored service project.

Our club encourages 100% attendance by all members, but we realize in today's world this may not be possible and we encourage that any missed meeting be made up. Notice of your makeup can be given to the Club Secretary by e-mail.

The Object of Rotary

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;
4. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men and women united in the ideal of service.

The Four-Way Test

Of the things we think, say and do:

First ...

Is it The TRUTH?

Second ...

Is it FAIR TO ALL CONCERNED?

Third ...

Will it BUILD GOODWILL AND BETTER FRIENDSHIPS?

Fourth ...

Will it be BENEFICIAL TO ALL CONCERNED?

The Rotary Motto

“Service Above Self”

The first motto of Rotary International, “He Profits Most Who Serves Best,” was approved at the second Rotary Convention, held in Portland, Oregon, in August 1911. The phrase was first stated by a Chicago Rotarian, Art Sheldon, who made a speech in 1910, which included the remark, “He profits most who serves his fellows best.”

At about the same time, Ben Collins, president of the Rotary Club of Minneapolis, Minnesota, commented that the proper way to organize a Rotary club was through the principle his club had adopted — “Service, Not Self.” These two slogans, slightly modified, were formally approved to be the official mottoes of Rotary at the 1950 Convention in Detroit — “He Profits Most Who Serves Best” and “Service Above Self.”

The 1989 Council on Legislation established “Service Above Self” as the principal motto of Rotary, since it best explains the philosophy of unselfish service in all the things we think, say or do.

SERVICE Above Self

4. Our Board of Directors approves your application for Rotary membership.

Organizational Structure Rotary Club of Marietta Metro

Club officers are elected in December of each year with their terms beginning July 1 of the following year. The slate of officers is proposed by a nominating committee, composed of the Past Presidents Council, with additional nominations accepted from the floor.

The proposed slate of officers consists of a President, President-Elect, Secretary and Treasurer. Including the Immediate Past President, these five positions comprise the Officers responsible for the conduct of the general business of our club.

The incoming President nominates Directors / Chairs who are elected to oversee the activities of a wide variety of committees to accomplish our goals in Rotary. These positions are similar to Directors in other clubs, and as the titles indicate, have an emphasis on service. The areas of service include:

- Club Service
 - Membership
 - Club Administration
 - Public Image
- Community Service
- Vocational Service
- Youth Service
- International Service / Rotary Foundation

Directors, along with the elected officers and the immediate Past President, comprise the club's Board of Directors. The Youth Service Chair and Vocational Service Chair are encouraged but not required to participate in Board meetings. The Board meets regularly once a month to determine policy and direction for the club.

The Directors and Chairs are responsible for selecting committee chairs in their respective avenues of service. Each club member is asked to serve on at least one committee and also is expected to participate in service projects and fundraising activities of other committees. Volunteering for a specific committee (or committees) is highly encouraged.

The Rotary Foundation

In 1917 at the Rotary International Convention in Atlanta, R.I. President Arch Klumph introduced a number of amendments to the Rotary constitution. Among them was a “new section establishing an endowment fund, the principal of which is to be kept intact and the interest used to further the objects of this Association ...” He explained, “It seems eminently proper that we should accept endowments for the purpose of doing good in the world.”²

Contributions to the endowment began with a donation of $26.50 from Rotarians in Kansas City. Other clubs followed suit; however, the notion was swallowed up in the midst of the First World War. Due to Klumph’s persistence, it emerged again in 1928 and was renamed The Rotary Foundation. Once again, though, it was largely forgotten when the stock market crashed the following year.

Ironically, it was the death of Paul Harris in 1947 that provided the needed spark. Rotarians around the world honored their organization’s founder with gifts to the Foundation in his memory. The funds initially were used to provide scholarships to graduate students for one year of study in a country other than their own. Those first scholars were called “Paul Harris Fellows.”

A few years later, the name “Paul Harris Fellow” was given to individuals in recognition of donations to the Foundation of $1,000. Those who give at least $100 per year toward becoming a Paul Harris Fellow are recognized as Paul Harris Sustaining Members.

The Rotary Foundation has remained strong and financially sound through the years, thanks once again to the vision and persistence of Arch Klumph. As he envisioned, the principal is kept intact and the interest is used to fund administrative costs. As a result, 100% of the monies contributed to the Foundation are used for projects and programs around the world. And the Foundation’s motto remains Doing Good in the World.

Each year the Rotary Foundation funds:

- Nearly $100 million in grants of various descriptions, including scholarships for graduate students to study abroad. Global grants support large international projects with measurable, sustainable outcomes in Rotary's areas of focus.
- District grants are awarded to clubs and districts for smaller, local projects.
- Vocational training teams are volunteers who are willing to offer their business and professional expertise in a country other than their own
- Peace programs that explore conflict resolution and new ways to encourage international understanding.
- PolioPlus, a worldwide polio eradication effort in partnership with the World Health Organization, UNICEF, and the Centers for Disease Prevention and Control (CDC)

The Rotary Club of Marietta Metro has a long tradition of individual members' support for the Rotary Foundation. While voluntary, each member is strongly encouraged to support the Rotary Foundation, as well as other charitable endeavors, through the Club's annual pledge sheet found later in this package.

A few members choose to provide direct support to the Rotary Foundation. Most members write a single annual check payable to the Rotary Club of Marietta Metro Foundation (RCMMF), an IRS-approved 501c3 charitable entity. Our Club Treasurer allocates your check amount among the options you choose on your pledge sheet (NOTE: your donation amount/allocations remain in effect each year unless modified). Each receiving charity is sent a list of every giver and his/her donation amount.

Rotary Club of Marietta Metro Carithers Free Enterprise College Scholarship

Since 2017, the Rotary Club of Marietta Metro has provided a local Cobb County student with a $4,000 two-year scholarship to Chattahoochee Technical College. This scholarship is funded through the Carithers Endowment Fund, our club Foundation's funding, and our members' contributions.

More recently we also began providing similar scholarships to students at Georgia Highlands College.
