Thomas Saunders

The Western PA Conservancy and its Work in the Erie Region

The Western Pennsylvania Conservancy plants street trees in downtown Erie, acquires lands in the Erie area as destinations for hiking, fishing and other outdoor recreation, and restores streams in Erie County. Tom D. Saunders, president and CEO of the Western PA Conservancy, will provide an overview of the Conservancy's work and highlight its recent projects.

TOM D. SAUNDERS is President and CEO of the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy. The Western Pennsylvania Conservancy protects open space, conserves and restores rivers and streams, plants trees, gardens and green spaces, protects rare, threatened and endangered species, and preserves and shares Frank Lloyd Wright's Fallingwater. Prior to his work at the Conservancy, Mr. Saunders was a land use attorney at Brobeck, Phleger and Harrison in San Francisco and Jones, Day, Reavis and Pogue in Washington, D.C., Director of the Maryland Environmental Trust, and Community Development Director of Gainesville, Florida. Mr. Saunders has a BA from Vanderbilt University, a master's degree in Public Affairs and Urban and Regional Planning from Princeton University and a law degree from Stanford University. Mr. Saunders serves on the board of the Pennsylvania Land Trust Association and on the national Land Trust Leadership Council.

Saint Mary's Follies and the Ageless Remarkable Erieite Award

Follies is an opportunity to recognize those among our Erie Community that are truly remarkable individuals. It is always a long and dedicated process to discern which nominated individuals will be selected as a recipient of the Ageless Remarkable Erieite Award. This award is given to local seniors, age 75 and older, who are doing remarkable things in our community long after they have retired. By remaining active and sharing their gifts in selfless services to others, honorees have a true zest for life and are an inspiration for all who call Erie Home.

This year's honorees have not only inspired many people throughout the Erie Community and beyond, they are the first couples who are receiving this award. Our theme "Twice as Nice" directly relates to these 3 couples. They are perfect examples of what it means to be Ageless Remarkable Erieites.

The 2016 Ageless Remarkable Erieite award recipients are:

Walter and Joan Harf, Paul and Lane Nelson, and Dr. Richard and Willie Rahner
