Scott Mitchell

The Zoo Guy

Scott Mitchell is the President and CEO of the Erie Zoological Society, a position he assumed in July 2007. He has been with the zoo for over 33 years. He is responsible for a $4 million annual operating budget and over 100 full and part-time staff.

He was graduated from Penn State – The Behrend College with a BS degree in Business Management with a minor in Economics. Scott can be seen on television throughout the region spreading the zoo news. He appears regularly on several local network television stations. Some of his appearances include special “wild guests” that help bring to life his messages of education, conservation and fun.

Scott will tell you all the things you want to know, and some you probably didn't, about your Erie Zoo.
