Andrew Roth

Scholar-in-Residence at the Jefferson Educational Society.

As a Scholar-in-Residence at the Jefferson Educational Society (JES), Roth is working with his colleagues to enhance the Jefferson Civic Leadership Academy by including an academically oriented research component to the program. At the JES Roth is also doing research on and preparing presentations about "1968: The Far Side of the Moon and the Birth of the Culture Wars", which is a component of a larger research project on "The American Story: What Binds Us Together as Americans". Previous work at the JES has included presentations on "Xander Hamilton:

From St. Kitts to Weehawken to Hip-Hop Hit: The Life of Alexander Hamilton"; "George Washington: Primus Inter Pares"; "On Leadership: Towards a Practical Theory of Leadership"; "An Unlikely Trio: Washington, Lincoln and The Jesuits". Roth also teaches graduate level leadership courses on "Leadership: Theory and Practice" and "Leading Change: The Leadership Challenge." Lastly, he works with independent colleges on strategic visioning, strategic planning and enrollment management.

In 2016-17, Roth served as the Interim-President of St. Bonaventure University leading the transition from Sr. Margaret Carney to Dr. Dennis DePerro.

Previously he served as president of Notre Dame College, from 2003 until his retirement in June 2014, upon which he was awarded an Honorary Doctorate for his leadership and was named President-Emeritus.

Prior to Notre Dame College, Roth served for almost thirty years at Mercyhurst University where he was a tenured faculty member; a coach - he founded the women's soccer team; and for over twenty years a senior administrator.

Roth holds degrees from John Carroll University, Case Western Reserve University, Gannon University and the State University of New York at Buffalo. He is also engaged with various civic organizations in Cleveland and Erie. When not working on his various projects, he enjoys reading, working out and cycling on Presque Isle.

He is married to retired banker Judy Owens Roth.

Interact Club & Rotary Club Project

Our Villa Maria Interact Club is donating care packages for the overflow shelters this winter. They are seeking donations of these items - toothbrush and toothpaste, lotion, hand warmers, bandaids, chapstick, comb/brush, pads or tampons, mints, cough drops, breakfast bars, jerky, trail mix, oatmeal packets, hot cocoa or instant coffee packets, hats, gloves, and socks.

Please support these future Rotarians by bringing your donations to our December meetings. For every 10 items, you will receive an entry to win a $50 Wegmans giftcard!

A Big Thank You!

We raised $800!
