March 06, 2012 Program

by Richard Neldon

Dale Lazar led us in recognizing students from McLean High School, Langley High School, and The Potomac School. The students selected from each school showed exceptional dedication and ability in challenging the community to support projects of a local and national scope, who have made outstanding service contributions to the community, and demonstrated the Rotary motto of "Service Above Self." The students were:

- Zhina Kamali, a Senior from McLean High School
- Sheerin Tehrani, a Senior from Langley High School
- Keenan Lidral-Porter, a Senior from The Potomac School.

Each student received a certificate of appreciation and a check from McLean Rotary. A pamphlet outlining all the students' activities in these areas was distributed to the membership

Guests:

Tom Jacoby, friend and co-worker of Heather Schoeppe at Chain Bridge Bank
Steve Puryear, friend of Marilen King, from United Bank
Parents and faculty from the three schools whose students are receiving Youth Service Awards.

Visiting Rotarians:

None

Announcement

by Richard Neldon

Ed Holman announced that we will not be having a St. Patrick's Day party this year. He also reminded us about the Lobster Feast at the Falls Church club.

Carmen Wu is putting together a Chocolate Basket (actually, the basket is not chocolate, just the goodies that will be inside the basket) to be raffled off at the Charlottesville conference.

Guru Raj is running this year's March Madness Bracket Tournament. See Guru if you want to play.

Ed Shahin reminded us that readers are needed in March and April at Timberline Elementary School.

ClubRunner Sponsors

Paul Ward spoke in a deep voice reminding us that he is playing the role of God in the play, Children of Eden, this weekend.

Bob Hahne mentioned that Zhina Kamali from McLean HS donated much time and money to the Stop Hunger Now project.

John Rosenbaum had a great trip to Maine.

Paul Ward his daughter came all the way back from Nairobi to see his show this weekend.

Dale Lazar encouraged and thanked the three students who received awards today.

Lynn Heinrichs and Carmen Wu also congratulated our three award winners.

Richard Golden was happy to see the Principal from The Potomac School with us.

Bob Rosenbaum was part of the Ethics Day at Temple Rodof Shalom for the 6th graders. He thanked everyone who participated in one of the several days.

Ed Holman is going to Orlando and then on to the Barbados on a cruise he won at Monte Carlo Night.

Ed Shahin was proud to share that he had been a member of Rotary now for 5 years. He will soon become "Rule of 85."

Ralf Berthiez has been invited to Boca Raton to judge a car contest.
