Oktoberfest Social

by Jan Auerbach

President Cherry Baumbusch reported that the draft bylaws had been revised to clarify, in accordance with RI policy that the admission fee does not apply to Rotaractors within two years of their membership termination or to transferring or former members of another Rotary club. Motions to approve the bylaws, Articles of Incorporation, and constitution were each made and seconded. All were approved without any no votes or abstentions.

An Oktoberfest social followed the bylaws' vote.

Announcements

by Jan Auerbach

Jan Auerbach asked for members to sign the sheets on the tables to work on Monte Carlo Night and also to buy gift cards for themselves and for Christmas gifts.

Vance Zavela said we need more sponsors and silent auction items for Monte Carlo Night. Leadership Fairfax will honor Pamela Danner at their annual fundraiser on November 5; tickets are $200 each.

Ed Shahin said the Aging in Place Forum last Saturday went very well with over 100 attendees. He thanked the six Rotarians who attended the forum.

Bob Hahne announced Stop Hunger Now is still short $10,000 toward its $50,000 goal. Maqsood Chaudry is hosting a dinner at his home on October 21 for all Stop Hunger Now volunteers. Members of the Interact Club at McLean High School will come to next week's Rotary meeting to sell wristbands for $5 or $10 in their effort to raise $6,000 to support Stop Hunger Now.

Carlos Berrios presented Bob Hahne with a check for $1,000 from the Great Falls club to support Stop Hunger Now. He presented Cherry Baumbusch the first Great Falls club banner to thank the McLean club for its sponsorship of their new club.

Todd Dempsey presented checks to Ed Shahin (for McLean Project for the Arts), Michael DeRose (for Langley Residential Support Services), Jan Auerbach (for Homestretch and Falls Church McLean Children's Center) and Glenn Yarborough (for the Wounded Warrior project at Vinson Hall). The checks represented the first round of checks from the McLean Rotary Foundation for the fiscal year.

Cherry Baumbusch reminded members of Rotary's commitment to help clean up Bryn Mawr Park behind Total Beverage on Tennyson Street on Saturday, October 22 from 9-11 AM.
